VICHY THREATENS NEW WAR

WPA SPENDERS ENLIST FOR THE WAR'S DURATION

Peace Projects Don Military Disguise.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

As rapidly as possible the Work Projects administration is seeking shelter for a threatened economy drive by moving in on "national defense." In Illinois 40 per cent of the WPAers already are working on defense projects, it was learned yesterday.

"The WPA has become a self-perpetuating agency," said Raleigh W. Stone, professor of industrial relations at the University of Chicago. "Strategy of the WPA leaders is to preserve what they evidently regard as an established equity in the federal tax revenues."

There are 39,598 WPAers blanketed under the defense label in Illinois, according to the report for last week. Cook county alone has 24,007 of them, of whom 17,882 are in Chicago.

See Strength Thru Joy Link.

The present list of 180 projects in operation and 10 more ready to open up is expanding both as to scope and numbers, WPA officials said.

"It seems we are now to have a Strength Thru Joy movement in America," Prof. Stone commented.

Business at the WPA art and crafts projects headquarters is booming. One project is to escort enlisted men on tours of the Art institute. Murals are being painted on walls at military camps. Paintings and prints are planned for all draft board offices.

Lantern slides showing the proper way to hoist the flag are another project. Then there are dioramas, contour maps, and topographical maps of Fort Custer [completed] and of the Curtiss airport, to help keep 215 WPAers busy in Chicago.

The Army Demands Pictures.

"We can't keep up with the army demand for pictures, preferably modern," Emil Armin of the art project said.

The music project furnishes bands for recruiting and defense rallies, such bands having performed 41 times during the last three months. Thus WPA is able to beat the war drums in a literal sense. A WPA dance orchestra plays at weekly dances for service men at 1249 South Wabash avenue. There is a weekly concert at Fort Sheridan every Sunday.

A choral class for the 108th observation squadron is held each Wednesday night and for less proficient vocalizers there is community singing on Tuesdays at 5400 West 63d street —all under WPA.

The adult education project is also out to win service stripes by conducting Spanish classes for officers and men near every Illinois army camp.

Writers Get Real Military.

The writers' project, having spent millions of dollars preparing guidebooks during the last five years, is also joining in the defense rush. Sixty-five radio scripts are being prepared to dramatize the life of flying cadets. A bulletin on civilian and defense housing is in preparation. Plays for production at army camps are to be written. Histories of the camps will issue forth.

Construction projects covering a dozen types of buildings, bridges, culverts, incinerators, sewers, roads, airports, and air field facilities are under way from Rockford to Cairo. Wherever proximity to military establishments provides the excuse, there are defense projects.

"The possibility that WPA will keep labor out of the private defense industry market is inherent," Prof. Stone said. "Regardless of the situation now, this factor will develop as the supply of relief labor is absorbed."

La Guardia Picked to Head New Civilian Defense Board

Washington, D. C., May 19 (AP).—President Roosevelt has selected Mayor Fiorello La Guardia of New York, it was learned authoritatively today, to head a new government body dealing with civilian defense. In his new job La Guardia will be asked to organize a nation-wide air raid precaution system, coördinate federal and local defense projects, plan recreation and health facilities in training camp communities, and direct related activities. The agency will be called the Office of Civilian Defense and will rank with the Office of Production Management as a major branch of the Office for Emergency Management.

BY EDWARD WILSON.

Jim McDermott, 14th ward, back-of-the-yards alderman, recognized as the loudest voiced orator of the city council, took a deep breath yesterday and roared: "Bar rails should be for men only."

That is why, he explained, he will ask the council to pass an ordinance prohibiting the sale of liquor to women unless they are seated at tables.

The license committee will hold public hearings in the near future.

Recalls the Old Days.

"I'm tired of seeing women standing at bars," said Ald. Jim. "Before prohibition you never saw a woman even enter a barroom. No, sir. She either went in the family entrance and stayed away from the front of the saloon or she timidly knocked on the front door. Then the bartender would yell to the fellow nearest the door to hand her beer pail in.

"Now a man doesn't have a chance to get close to a bar rail in the loop between 5 and 6 o'clock in the evening. The bars are lined with stenographers who ought to be on the way home."

"Then," said Ald. Jim, "there's another angle—the peace of mind of the bartenders.

Quotes a Bartender.

"I've talked with a lot of 'em. And they don't like to have women at the bars. One of 'em said, 'Women is a nuisance. After a couple of drinks they want to know the names on every bottle and how I mix drinks. They ask too many questions.'"

The alderman said tavern waitresses liked his no women at bars idea. It would increase table business—and tips.

He said priests and ministers have assured him such an ordinance would "make it better all the way round."

So far as women's organizations are concerned—"How can they object?" asked Ald. Jim. "Equal rights are fine, but clubs certainly don't gain any reputation by their members sitting up at bars."

But the comment of Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith, president of the WCTU, was terse:

"Bars aren't any better for men than women. The only way to keep women out is to keep men out."

ORDER POLICE SEARCH FOR ALLEGED SLUGGER AFTER HE SKIPS BOND

William Bibby.

State's attorney's police were searching last night for William Bibby, an alleged slugger, following his failure to appear in the Felony court earlier in the day on a charge of beating a north side garage worker.

Bibby's arrest was ordered by Capt. Dan Gilbert, chief investigator for State's Attorney Courtney, after his bond of $50 was ordered forfeited by Judge Jay A. Schiller. On recommendation of Joseph O'Connor, assistant state's attorney, Judge Schiller set a new bond of $1,000 cash and issued a capias for Bibby's arrest.

Bibby is business agent of the Auto Livery Chauffeurs, Taxicab Drivers, and Garage Helpers' union, local 727 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters. It is alleged that last Wednesday he beat Furlin Thomas, 4919 Ravenswood avenue, an employé in a garage at 1240 Morse avenue, because Thomas refused to pay his dues without first being informed what the union would do with the money.

WILLIE BIOFF IS INDISPENSABLE TO ARMS DRIVE!

Los Angeles, Cal., May 19 [Special]. —Willie Bioff, the ex-pander who heads the Alliance of Theatrical Stage employés in the movie industry and who is under federal indictment charging evasion of $85,000 income taxes for 1936 and 1937, today won indefinite postponement of his trial set for June 24 on the novel plea that his services are vital to the national rearmament program.

Bioff appeared in the United States District court of Judge Paul J. McCormick while his counsel, George Breslin, pleaded that George Browne, boss of the international, had assigned him to take charge of technical crews to avert labor trouble during the making of a series of films to be used for army instruction and in armament factories. William F. Hall, assistant United States attorney, did not offer any objection when Judge McCormick put the case over until September for reassignment.

Bioff, a former Chicago hoodlum, served five months in jail there last year under a pandering sentence avoided for years.

Speed Demon (He's 7) Meets a Stop Light

A truck driver, whose name unfortunately was lost in the confusion, saw what appeared to be a driverless car speeding along Rand road in Des Plaines yesterday. He stepped on the gas and drew alongside.

"Midgets," he remarked to his seatmate as they glimpsed the small figure behind the wheel and the smaller figure at his side. "They shouldn't be allowed to drive."

So he got his truck rolling at 65 miles an hour and curbed the auto, which was stopped deftly at the curb near Graceland road. The truck driver got out and found himself facing Arthur Koester Jr., 7 years old, and his brother, Johnny, 5, of 303 South Edward street, Mount Prospect. Arthur was the driver.

Sonny Explains All.

Chief of Police Howard A. Becker of Des Plaines took both boys to the station. There Sonny, as Arthur is known, explained.

He has been driving for a year, Sonny said, can see very well between the rim of the steering wheel and the horn ring, and can reach both brake and clutch by sliding half off the seat. The car belongs to his cousin, Dr. Louise Koester of 221 South Owens street, Mount Prospect. He intended to return it to her as soon as he had found a friend, whose name he couldn't remember, who lived somewhere in Des Plaines, he didn't know just where.

Sonny said they got the car key from Dr. Koester's medicine chest at 1 p. m., backed out of the drive, and were off. They were stopped at 4:12 p. m. Sonny said he hit 80 once.

Taught by His Cousin.

The boys' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Koester, and Dr. Koester were called. Dr. Koester said she taught Sonny to drive last year after he had accompanied her on calls for three years. She said she had warned him never to take the car alone.

Sergt. Harry H. Pence of the state police, safety director for the northern district, who was in Des Plaines to lecture to high school pupils on dangers of fast driving, asked in disgust how he could persuade them of the peril if a 7 year old could drive 80 miles an hour without accident.

Chief Becker and Sergt. Pence said all the Koesters would have to go to Juvenile court in Chicago to do some more explaining today.

Johnny said Sonny was a swell driver.

138 Yankees Aboard Egyptian Craft.

May Not Be Sunk

CAPE TOWN, Union of South Africa, May 20 [Tuesday]—(AP).—Naval authorities said today they had reason to believe the Egyptian liner Zamzam may not have been sunk. They stressed the fact that the report here was only that the ship was overdue. The naval sources said it is possible the passengers and crew are safe.

[This could be taken as a hint that the Zamzam had been detained. There were rumors in London that the liner had been seized by a German raider which placed a prize crew aboard and sailed the ship safely into a pro-axis harbor, possibly Dakar, in French West Africa.]

(Pictures on pages 4 and 5.)

New York, May 19 [Special].—The Egyptian liner Zamzam, carrying 322 men, women, and children—among them 138 Americans—has vanished without a trace, and today London reported that the ship must be "presumed lost" in the South Atlantic "due to enemy action." Efforts to learn exactly what happened to the ship's passengers were frustrated by wartime censorship, a veil of uncertainty, and conflicting rumors.

The liner has been overdue for 28 days, but no hint of the news leaked out until dispatches disclosed that the 8,299 ton motor ship apparently was sunk by German raiders without a clew to her fate on the route which American ships will take with supplies for Britain's near eastern armies.

Many Missionaries Aboard.

The Americans aboard the Zamzam, which sailed from Jersey City, N. J., last March 20, included 24 members of an ambulance unit and 170 missionaries and their families, of many faiths —Baptists, Presbyterians, Roman Catholics, Seventh Day Adventists, and such groups as the Africa-Inland mission, the Sudan Interior mission, and the South African General mission.

Charles J. V. Murphy, liaison officer of the second Byrd antarctic expedition and now a writer for Fortune magazine, and David Scherman, a photographer for Life magazine, were among the passengers.

The British-American ambulance corps unit on the lost liner included Michael Kirchwey Clark, 21 years old, son of Freda Kirchwey, editor of the Nation and a leading advocate of all-out aid for Britain. Another was Philip Faversham, 33 years old, actor and son of the late William Faversham, the matinée idol.

Ship's Captain a Briton.

The Zamzam carried 202 passengers in all and was manned by 10 British officers and a crew of 110 Egyptians. Her master was Capt. William Gray Smith, a British subject and a veteran of 37 years at sea.

Thomas Cook & Son, New York passenger agents for the vessel, said the state department in Washington, D. C., had instructed it not to release the passenger list on the ground that there was no official word as to whether the ship had

U. S. EMBASSY SEEKS MORE SPACE AS STAFF IN LONDON EXPANDS

LONDON, May 19 (AP).—The United States embassy today asked Washington, D. C., for permission to sign leases for more working space.

The embassy staff has grown so, now numbering about 350, that the corridors are jammed with traffic. Nearly every plane from Lisbon, Portugal, brings an addition, so that four Americans standing on the embassy steps were stumped today when a group of United States attachés passed.

"Who are they?" one of those on the steps asked. "Heaven knows," was the answer. "After all, I have been away to lunch."

The embassy is a big apartment house on Grosvenor square, and upper floors are leased out as apartments. If permission is granted to expand it is expected the tenants will be asked to move.

CAPITAL HEARS REPORTS OF NEW F. D. R. WAR MOVE

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 19.—Reports that President Roosevelt is planning a new war move which would constitute a further step "short of war" stirred official Washington today.

One report was that the President is about to proclaim a full emergency, under which he could place the country on virtually a war footing.

Another report concerned a special message to congress which the President mentioned today when he was in conference with senate and house leaders. Senator Alben W. Barkley [Dem., Ky.], majority leader of the senate, said after the conference that "there is nothing very definite" about the message. Reached tonight thru a secretary, Mr. Roosevelt said he has no present plans to send a message to congress.

Revelation by Fish.

Representative Hamilton Fish [R., N. Y.] said during a house rules committee hearing on defense legislation that he had "been given to understand the President will issue a proclamation of full emergency" early this week. He added that he would raise the question in the house of the distinction between the "limited emergency" the President proclaimed Sept. 8, 1939, and a "full emergency."

"I will challenge the President's power," said Fish, "to put the United States into an undeclared war against the biggest portion of the world, if that's what a 'full emergency' means. There's considerable difference between a war with the Barbary pirates and a war against the powers dominating three continents."

Last week the President at a press conference cited the war between the United States and the Barbary pirates in the early years of the 19th century as a precedent for an undeclared war over the protection of American cargoes consigned to the British army in the near east.

The "Limited Emergency."

Under the terms of the "limited emergency" proclamation of Sept. 8, 1939, the President increased the enlisted strength of the army and navy. He emphasized that he was not placing the national defense and the country's internal economy on a war footing, for which the proclamation of a "full emergency" would be necessary.

The President is authorized by law to proclaim a state of emergency in the event of war or the imminence of war. In a full emergency the President exercises dictatorial powers of a wide range.

Evidence that the President is becoming increasingly excited over the war situation gave point to the reports that he is contemplating another step toward a more complete participation of the United States in the conflict. He is worked up particularly over the collaboration agreement which Hitler has wrung from the Vichy government of France, whereby, the President strongly suspects, the Nazis will be able to occupy western Africa with the acquiescence of the Weygand army in Morocco and establish submarine and air bases at Dakar, 1,800 miles from Brazil.

South Atlantic Control.

Establishment of the Germans at Dakar would enable them to bomb the countries of the new world at will, according to the President's statistics on the capabilities of military aircraft.

Dakar in German hands would be a grave threat to British empire communication and to the supply of the British armies in the near east by means of ships carrying arms cargoes from England and the United States around the Cape of Good Hope and thru the Red sea.

AGAIN AND AGAIN

President Roosevelt, on October 30, 1940, speaking to fathers and mothers on the selective service act:

"And while I am talking to you mothers and fathers, I give you one more assurance.

"I have said this before, but I shall say it again and again. Your boys are not going to be sent into any foreign wars.

"They are going into training to form a force so strong that, by its very existence, it will keep the threat of war far away from our shores.

British Planes Fired On in Syrian Raid.

Japs Say U.S. Protests

TOKIO, May 20 [Tuesday]—(AP). —The newspaper Yomiuri today said in a dispatch from Hanoi, French Indo-China, that the American government recently sent the Indo-China government a strong protest against any possible axis alignment. The note, the paper said, was in the same vein as President Roosevelt's appeal last week to European France and added that the Indo-China government was preparing a reply that will not be favorable.

VICHY, France, May 19 (AP).—French anti-aircraft batteries have begun firing on British warplanes over Syria, and official sources here indicated an imminent French offensive attempt to regain empire territory now held by "De Gaullist rebels."

These swift and significant developments came as Admiral Jean Darlan left suddenly for Paris presumably to continue French-German collaboration negotiations.

"France cannot permit a foreign power to intervene" against her efforts to get back the territory held by Gen. Charles de Gaulle and his followers, an official French information office statement said.

Rebel French Messages.

The statement particularly cited messages written by "rebel French" military leaders and dropped by English planes on Syrian towns as proof "that one of the objects of English politics is to separate Syria from metropolitan France.

"The hour without doubt now has come for France to retake all her empire."

A dispatch from Beirut, Syria, said French batteries had fired at British planes yesterday following a warning by French Gen. Henri Dentz, Syrian high commissioner, that Syria would meet force with force.

Germany already has agreed to release approximately 100,000 of the 1,800,000 French prisoners of war, and Telemondial, an official news agency, said "still more important results of the negotiations would be announced soon."

Just what France is going to concede to Germany is not publicly known, but there long have been rumors here that one of the German terms for collaboration is that France attempt to reëstablish control over her entire African empire.

Hold Huge Territory.

U. S. NAVY INSPECTS SOUTH PACIFIC ISLE AS SEAPLANE BASE

BY E. R. NODERER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

NOUMEA, New Caledonia, May 18 [delayed].—Two United States naval air officers arrived here today aboard the Pan American Clipper, reportedly to determine the possibility of using Noumea as a seaplane base if America enters the war. New Caledonia is under "Free French" rule.

En route from Honolulu, where Commander Charles Coe and Lieutenant Commander Frank O'Beirne boarded the plane, the clipper deviated several times from its course to fly low over South sea islands to give the naval men a view of landing facilities.

Particular attention was paid to Gardner island and the Funafuti islands. Gardner is in the Phoenix group and the Funafuti islands in the Ellice group. These are between Canton island and New Caledonia and belong to the British.

The officers also made the trip to observe the handling of the Clipper which is similar to a number of patrol bombers ordered by the United States navy. They flew the plane for short periods on several occasions to familiarize themselves with its performance.

900,000 square miles and a population of 6,000,000.

This land stretches from the West African coast northward to southern Libya—a direct link also with the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan. Dakar, the French West African port which the De Gaulle forces attempted to take, is far to the northwest.

[Other parts of the French empire loyal to Gen. de Gaulle are French Oceania, of 10,000 square miles and 100,000 population, and French India, of 196 square miles and 300,000 population.]

30,000 Troops in Syria.

France's forces in mandated Syria number perhaps 30,000 men; in North Africa—Tunis, Algeria, and Morocco—Gen. Maxime Weygand has a considerable army of undisclosed strength, and these latter territories extend from Italian Libya to French West Africa.

The French information office commented that Germany's action in freeing the French war prisoners was a "humane act in which today's victor pays homage to the very ones who once triumphed over his country."

Empire May Be at Stake.

LONDON, May 19 (AP).—With the British again bombing Syrian airdromes as bases for the German air force and the French high commissioner in Syria, Gen. Henri Dentz, accusing his ex-allies of "criminal aggressions," the fate of France's whole colonial empire may be at stake in the conflict taking shape in the middle east.

The British generally accepted this as the implication of the reported German domination of Syria, next door neighbor of oil-rich, strategic Iraq.

French anti-aircraft batteries fired on British planes yesterday when they again bombed airports at Palmyra, Damascus, and Rayak—airports which the British charge are being used as stopping stations for German warplanes going to the aid of Iraq's rebellious premier, Rashid Ali.

German Bomber Destroyed.

The Beirut dispatch which reported the attack said no hits were scored. A large sky transport and a big Heinkel bomber were destroyed at Palmyra and other Nazi aircraft were bombed and machine gunned at other fields, a Cairo communique said. The British also attacked Rashid airdrome, which is near Bagdad.

[The German radio in a broadcast heard in New York said French chaser planes shot down their first British bomber over Syria Monday.]

British status in Syria remains in question. As far as is known in informed quarters, British consuls still are at their posts and no representations of any kind have as yet passed between Vichy and London concerning hostilities there.

Should an open rupture develop, the British and "Free French" forces still allied with them would be in a position for quick seizure of French Somaliland, East Africa.

A Strategic Location.

Observers said there was no reason to believe they would hesitate to grab this opportunity in view of the colony's strategic location at the mouth of the Red sea.

The British assumed that German instigation was behind the Vichy announcement implying France was ready to attempt a conquest of French Equatorial Africa, now under the banner of Gen. Charles de Gaulle's "free French" troops.

One authoritative source said France might hand back the former German colonies of Togoland and the Cameroons and then grant Nazi troop passage across French territory to strike at Gen. de Gaulle's forces.

"Only a small force could march across the French Sahara desert," this source said, "but it could be a tremendous nuisance in those parts."

The London headquarters of De Gaulle charged that the measures being taken by the Vichy government in collaboration with Germany are "neither free nor legal, and consequently cannot be considered as binding on the French people."

[Gen. de Gaulle himself, from his African headquarters at Brazzaville, yesterday broadcast an appeal to Frenchmen in the empire to "revolt against the traitors who are delivering our empire to the enemy after having done so with our country."]

The Exchange Telegraph agency in a dispatch from Cairo said unofficial reports from Palestine told of withdrawal of French forces in Syria from the frontier and of evacuation of the area.

BRITISH SPEED UP ETHIOPIAN DRIVE AS FORT FALLS

CAIRO, Egypt, May 19 (AP).—The last important Italian position in northeastern Ethiopia, the 9,000 foot fortified peak of Amba Alaji, fell today to British imperial troops, and the British command rushed offensives against the remaining areas of Fascist resistance in an effort to smash the whole colony before the worst of the rainy season begins.

Amba Alaji, to which the duke of Aosta had fallen back after the British seizure of the Ethiopian capital of Addis Ababa last April 6, capitulated after long and violent fighting. During the day the whole of its forces—estimated to number 7,000—surrendered, giving up important quantities of guns and supplies. The duke himself, at his own request, was allowed to delay his personal surrender until tomorrow so that he might be "the last to leave."

Other British successes against the Fascists in northwest Ethiopia and in the south were announced. Sudan forces assisted by Ethiopian natives seized "an important position" in the Gondar section in the northwest, while in the south the road junction of Dalle was captured.

CHURCHMEN VOTE PROTEST TO F. D. R. TO HALT CONVOYS

New York, May 19 [Special].—The New York East conference of the Methodist church today unanimously adopted a resolution opposing the use of United States naval or air forces to convoy ships.

The resolution was introduced by the Rev. Ernest F. Weise, pastor of the Grace Methodist church of Waterbury, Conn. It read:

"Reaffirming our abhorrence of war as the supreme expression of human collective sin, we insist upon a policy of nonintervention in the wars which are raging abroad and . . . we protest the proposal to use our naval or air forces to convoy munition laden vessels thru belligerent waters."

IDENTIFIES MYSTERY BODY.

The body of a man found dead Saturday in an areaway at 2512 Eastwood avenue was identified yesterday as that of Gunnar Hilmer, 38 years old, 4434 North Kenton avenue, a painter. His wife told police he had suffered from heart attacks.

WAR BRINGS NEW IMPORTANCE TO DAKAR'S POSITION

Strongly Fitted as Naval Base; Harbor Good.

Recent developments in the war have called particular attention to the importance of Dakar, the most westerly point in Africa, which occupies a commanding position on the route between western Europe and Brazil and South Africa.

Dakar, the only seaport of Senegal affording safe anchorage for the largest ships, is the capital of French West Africa. The port, the neighboring island of Goree, and the adjacent district form a French commune, which, like the city itself, is called Dakar.

The population of the city is 70,000, and 6,000 of these residents are Europeans. Much of the city has been built in recent years, and Dakar presents a modern appearance, with broad and regular streets, several fine public buildings, half a dozen good hotels, and numerous café restaurants.

Strong Coastal Defense.

The city has strong coastal defenses, a land airport, and a seaplane base. There are three commercial docks with 7,000 feet of quayage. There are also a naval dock and arsenal, a torpedo boat basin, and a dry dock.

The city has extensive warehouses to accommodate its trade. French steamship lines long have used Dakar as a coaling station and provisioning depot for their South American commerce. It has other important commercial facilities: a railroad to St. Louis, the capital of the colony of Senegal, rail and water connections with the rich Niger river valley, and a telegraphic cable direct to Brest, France.

Dakar is a city of beauty, with great public gardens and flowers growing about its houses of pink, blue, and white. It is a picturesque city, too, in its old native quarters—the market, the ancient slave depot, and the native houses which were built before the French began making Dakar a modern metropolis in 1862.

Known as Healthful City.

Dakar [the first a as in ask, the second as in arm, the accent on the second syllable] is known as a healthful city in which to live. Its water supply is excellent. Its temperature, while quite warm much of the time, does not have the extremes of interior West Africa, where readings of 90 to 100 are the common thing.

It has a rainy season which corresponds roughly to the period of summer in the United States, and a dry season at the time of American winter. The rainy season brings occasional heavy storms; the dry, hot winds from the Sahara.

French West Africa is a territory of 1,247,191 square miles, composed of the colonies of Senegal, French Guinea, the Ivory Coast, Dahomey, Mauritania, the Sudan, and the Niger. The population is 14,500,000, of which 24,600 residents are European.

Important exports are peanuts, oil palm products, cocoa, precious woods, cotton, cattle, gum arabic, shea butter and oil, hides and skins.

Observer Says It Makes Former Allies Foes.

[BY THE NEW YORK NEWS.]

Washington, D. C., May 19.—Great Britain, by her refusal to permit the United States to feed the starving Belgians and other Nazi subjugated peoples of Europe, has fallen into a German trap and thereby turned these peoples against the democracies, in the opinion of Gilbert Redfern, a representative of the Hoover food commission, who has just returned from Europe.

"The British government made a terrible blunder in rejecting the proposal of Mr. Hoover [former President Herbert Hoover] to get help to the small European nations overrun by the Nazi and soviet armies," Redfern declared in an interview here. "In Belgium they feel sure that the Germans were quite willing to accept Hoover's plan. The German attitude was not motivated by any philanthropic feeling; on the contrary, the Germans wanted to set a diplomatic trap for Prime Minister Churchill.

Churchill's Policy Recalled.

"Hitler's high command was convinced by past experience that Churchill would oppose it, because he had gone on record against the same kind of a plan during the postworld war period. Again in the present emergency he refused, thus falling into the German trap."

Redfern had been in Europe since October, 1939, spending the greater part of his time in Poland, with occasional visits to Belgium and other countries, where he observed conditions at first hand.

The people of Belgium, Holland, Norway, Poland, and Finland believe that Britain's war aim is not to save the democracies, but to conquer Germany and her subjugated allies by "lice, rats, pestilence, and famine" thru the food blockade, Redfern declared.

Propaganda Promotes Idea.

This idea is promoted, Redfern said, by the subsidized radio of German Propaganda Minister Goebbels, which operates day and night to tell these people: "England is trying to starve you. We are trying to feed you, but the blockade is working against us."

Redfern said thousands upon thousands of children in Belgium are victims of rickets, malnutrition, and other ailments caused by slow starvation. Germany has been shipping some food, he said, into Belgium, Holland, and Nazi-controled France—to feed the enslaved munitions workers and those who can be useful to the reich's plans—but she does not care what happens to the children and destitute adults.

"By our refusal to feed the children and unemployed adults of Belgium," Redfern asserted, "we are compelling that nation to go to the Germans for help. We are turning its people toward the third reich." Furthermore, he declared, if this country permits these people to die for lack of food history will indict America for the virtual extinction of a generation.

European Survey Proposed.

While Redfern was giving his views Representative Louis Ludlow [D., Ind.] introduced a resolution in the house proposing that congress and five representatives of President Roosevelt "investigate the social, economic, and political conditions" of European nations, including those subjugated by the axis powers.

Ludlow proposed that a committee of six Democrats and four Republicans each from the house and senate and five men appointed by the President be sent to Europe to make a study and report back to the government.

HOME OF BLIGH, BOUNTY CAPTAIN, RAZED BY BOMB

FARNINGHAM, England, May 19 (AP).—A centuries old manor house, once the home of Capt. William Bligh of the ship Bounty, has been demolished by a bomb hit. There were no casualties. Sir Irving Albery, the owner, was absent. Bligh, set adrift with 18 of his crew when the others mutinied in the Pacific in 1789, sailed a ship's boat 4,000 miles to Batavia and returned to England. Some of the mutineers founded the Pitcairn Island colony which remained undiscovered by the world until 1808.

NEW 'LAWRENCE OF ARABIA' SHOT OR SLAIN IN IRAQ

LONDON, May 19 (AP).—Maj. John B. Glubb, called the "second Lawrence of Arabia," was reported today to have been killed or wounded while fighting in the near east, where he had lived for 22 years among nomadic Arab tribes.

Maj. John B. Glubb.

The report, on the sixth anniversary of the death of T. E. Lawrence, the original Lawrence of Arabia, said he died while commanding the Arab legion fighting at the side of British troops against Iraqis.

A communique from the insurgent Iraq leader, Rashid Ali Al Gailani, said the Englishman, known to the Arabs as "Abu Heneik, father of the Little Chin," because of a world war jaw wound, was killed near Ambla Dolma.

From Amman, Trans-Jordan, however, came a message that Maj. Glubb was at a hospital with two bullet wounds.

CAPT. JIMMY SAYS GREEK KING GAVE HIM LOT OF IDEAS

JERUSALEM, May 19.—"I got a briefcase full of suggestions and ideas from my talk with King George of Greece in Crete," Capt. James Roosevelt of the marine corps and son of the President, said today. He stated that he and the Greek ruler discussed the question of defense and also what aid could reach the Greek government from America.

Capt. Roosevelt has been inspecting air fields in the middle east, chatting with "Free French" pilots at various stations. He also inspected ships which had gone thru "exciting experiences" in the eastern Mediterranean. One of his missions has been to inspect American planes here to ascertain what arrangements are necessary for their assembly and servicing before they can be used in the middle east.

Sets a Record

Lillian Gish and Percy Waram, featured players in "Life with Father," celebrated the attainment of the all time record engagement in Chicago stage history backstage at the Blackstone theater last evening. On Saturday evening the run of "Life with Father" had equalled the 65 week record run of "Lightnin'" in 1921 and 1922, and last evening's performance was the first one in the record breaking 66th week.

David Jeffries, who appears in the play as the youngest of the four red haired Day boys, exhibited an obviously outgrown pair of trousers, to show how much he has grown since he began acting in the play.

"Life with Father" closes at the Blackstone theater Saturday evening. During its Chicago engagement more than 590,000 people have seen the comedy, and the box office gross has exceeded $650,000.

THE FUGITIVE: A SCENARIO IN THREE PARTS

Police Write the Climax to Exciting Drama.

CHAPTER I.

Omaha, Neb., May 19 [Special].—The robbery trial of Herman Banning, 39 years old, of Chicago was postponed today when Defense Attorney Hugh Boyle presented a telegram saying Banning is seriously ill in Chicago. The telegram was signed by Dr. Morris D. Finkel of Chicago.

Banning, who is allegedly a member of a gang of jewel thieves who had headquarters in Chicago while they committed robberies in other cities, is charged with the theft of $30,000 in jewelry from David G. Hay, a Chicago jewelry salesman.

CHAPTER II.

Federal authorities yesterday asked Chicago police to arrest Herman Banning, an ex-convict, after Banning, who was at liberty on bond, failed to appear to stand trial for robbery in Omaha, Neb.

Detectives Morris Friedman, Frank Pape, and Rudolph Friedel of the detective bureau were sent to an apartment at 1016 Ainslie street, where Banning lived with his wife, Julia. Neither was at home, but the detectives waited two hours in the expectation that some one would return for a fox terrier left in the apartment.

Finally Mrs. Banning appeared and took the dog. She was trailed to Ainslie street and Sheridan road, where she entered an automobile driven by Banning.

Pape ran into the street and waved to Banning to stop. When the fugitive ignored the command Pape fired at the car, the bullet piercing a fender. The detectives then commandeered two passing automobiles and chased Banning to Argyle street and Marine drive. There the fugitive halted for a stop light and was captured. A .32 caliber pistol was found in his car.

He and Mrs. Banning were held for federal authorities. Banning has served two terms in the Missouri state prison and was paroled each time.

CHAPTER III.

Dr. Morris D. Finkel, 6350 North Clark street, said that he and another physician had examined Banning at the suspect's home early in the day and found him to be suffering from a streptococcic infection of the throat. Later in the day, Dr. Finkel said, he learned of Banning's arrest.

been sunk. The Cook office announced that a copy had been sent to the state department by air mail.

The state department disclaimed any order against releasing the list, and said it had not received a passenger list, altho officials admitted that the list is expected to arrive in Washington tonight or tomorrow. The department said it will decide tomorrow morning whether the list can be released.

The department disclosed that it had been trying to get word of the Zamzam for the last few days.

Quit Brazil April 9.

The first scheduled stop of the Zamzam was Recife [Pernambuco], in Brazil. She was en route to Alexandria, Egypt, by way of the southern Atlantic and Indian ocean.

The Zamzam arrived at Recife safely and sailed from there for South Africa on April 9—and no word of the liner, her passengers and crew, and her fate has been received since then.

One of the missionaries aboard—Miss Harriet M. Halsey, 60, of Syracuse—wrote from Recife to a sister in Kane, Pa., that the passengers embarking on the Zamzam had been warned "you are taking your lives in your hands."

No Survivors Reported.

The fear that all aboard the liner were lost was increased by the length of time that has elapsed without any survivor being reported. The only frail hope was offered by shipping men who said that the mere fact that the Zamzam disappeared without the slightest trace indicated that she had been sunk by a German surface raider and that her whole company might be prisoners aboard the raider. If she had been sunk by a submarine, they said, the chances were that there would have been some survivors, at least, picked up in boats by this time.

Others expressed the theory that the vessel might have been delayed somewhere en route and feared to report her position.

It was learned that the British-American ambulance corps on May 1 sent out form letters to the parents and relatives of the ambulance drivers, asking for data on them for publicity purposes. These letters contained the statement: "For your information we have heard that the Zamzam safely crossed the ocean and has already left Cape Town for Mombasa [Kenya]."

Recall Skipper's Statement.

Washington dispatches gave no indication that the status of the Egyptian liner was a moot point. British sympathizers claimed the ship was neutral, but Germany has gone on record as regarding Egypt as "a non-belligerent ally" of England because British land and naval forces are based on Egyptian soil by virtue of an Anglo-Egyptian treaty.

The Zamzam's skipper is understood to have considered his ship as something less than neutral because, when he brought her to New York, he related that he had sailed blacked out and with his wireless dead to reduce the perils at sea.

The Zamzam, launched as the British liner Leicestershire 32 years ago, was used as an American troopship during the world war. Later she was sold to become a Moslem pilgrim ship. Her Egyptian owners renamed her the Zamzam for a sacred well near Mecca, the holy city of the Moslems.

She arrived in New York last Feb. 24, coming from Alexandria via the Red sea and the Cape of Good Hope, with 5,000 tons of cargo, mostly Egyptian cotton, and 99 passengers.

When she sailed on her last journey, she carried a cargo of fertilizer, trucks, automobiles, and "machinery of various types," it was announced. In the cargo were 20 ambulances valued at $1,350 each, a repair truck, a field kitchen and staff car.

Reported Lost

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Philip Faversham (left), actor and son of late Actor William Faversham, and Michael K. Clark, son of Freda Kirchwey, editor of the Nation, who were passengers on the Zamzam.

SIX CHICAGOLAND MISSIONARIES ON VANISHED LINER

Twelve Others from Moody Institute Aboard.

Six residents of the Chicago area, all bound for missionary duty, were aboard the Egyptian liner Zamzam, which has vanished in the South Atlantic ocean. Twelve other missionaries, graduates of the Moody Bible institute here, also were on the ship.

One of the Chicagoans is Miss Alida Agrinson, 41 years old, 1662 Humboldt boulevard. She was returning to the French Cameroon sector in Africa to resume missionary work for the Lutheran Sudan mission. She has been a missionary seven years and formerly was a nurse in the Norwegian American hospital. She is a member of the Hauge Lutheran church, Central Park and Wabansia avenues.

Others Aboard Ship.

The other missionaries from Chicagoland who were on the ship are:

Miss Florence Almen, whose mother, Mrs. Elof Almen, lives at 5869 Manton avenue. Miss Almen is a member of the Church of the Brethren, mid-Africa mission, and was returning after a vacation to continue missionary work in French Equatorial Africa. She recently had written to her mother that she planned to leave the Zamzam at Cape Town and take a river boat up the Congo river.

The Rev. and Mrs. Walter Ohman of Wheaton, who also had been on vacation from missionary duties. They were on the way to duties under the Sudan Inland mission.

Irl McCallister and his wife, Florence, of the Scandinavian Alliance mission. The McCallisters also live in Wheaton. Mrs. McCallister is a former student at Moody Bible institute.

Sends Queries to Washington.

Dr. Will Houghton, president of the institute, said the 12 graduates who were on the ship live in various parts of the country.

He sent telegrams to the state department asking for information concerning the safety of the missionaries.

Two graduates of the Chicago Evangelical institute also were aboard the ship. They are the Rev. and Mrs. George Belknap of Boyne City, Mich.

Ex-Chicagoan a Passenger.

A former Chicagoan, Mrs. Merle Schwartz, also was on the boat with her husband, a physician and missionary. The Schwartzes, whose home is in Carlock, Ill., were on the way to Cape Town.

The Rev. and Mrs. William Edwards, of Indianapolis, whose son, Donald, 22, is a student at the University of Chicago, also were on the ship. They were passengers on the British liner Athenia, too, having been rescued when that liner was sunk on Sept. 3, 1939, a few hours after the start of hostilities.

Studebaker
HIGHEST QUALITY CAR IN THE LOWEST PRICE FIELD

620 MILES AN HOUR ...STRAIGHT DOWN!
That's the diving speed Andy McDonough has achieved in a Bell Airacobra P-39 pursuit ship—more speed than anyone had ever recorded before! "Eleven-fifty horsepower is a lot of 'soup'," says Andy, "but I'd rather pay the gas bills for a Studebaker."

"A TEST pilot learns to be mighty sensitive to control and performance characteristics. So I was all set to be critical when they handed me the keys to a new Studebaker Champion and said, 'Take it away,'" reports Andy McDonough, one of America's leading test pilots.

"I gave that car a really terrific workout. I made it show me its stuff at loafing speeds and full out . . . on dirt roads and on concrete . . . around sharp corners and swinging curves . . . on mountain roads and city streets.

"My report? Say, I'll settle for a Studebaker Champion any day. It has the alive, responsive 'feel' of a pursuit plane. All the pep and performance you could ask for. It's so smooth-riding, so steady and sure-footed, so perfectly under control, you know you're in a car that's really got something when you drive it."

Thank you, Andy McDonough. Your report checks true with the opinions of tens of thousands of owners who know there's no other car quite like a Studebaker Champion.

Come in and take a Champion out on the road for a demonstration of its thrilling performance. Use your present car as part payment—easy terms.

U. S. OUT OF TOUCH WITH SITUATION IN EUROPE: VICHY

Places Washington on 'Another Planet.'

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VICHY, France, May 19.—The French press today continued to devote much space to Washington, D. C.'s, attitude toward France's policy in coming to terms with the Germans. It was suggested that the Washington statesmen are as much out of touch with the real situation in Europe as was Woodrow Wilson 23 years ago.

The press, which is strictly controled, asserted that Washington, for one reason or another, does not have a grip on the European situation, and its attitude indicates an unawareness that might be associated with that of the inhabitants of another planet in trying to judge European affairs.

They Quote the Swiss.

This idea is conveyed thru a lavish quotation of the Swiss press, which more or less unanimously puts over the idea that Washington does not understand what is going on in Europe, or, at any rate, is being hoodwinked by some one. It is not clear whether this is an oblique reference to the American diplomatic service and a suggestion that it is inadequate.

At any rate, all French papers quoted the Tribune de Geneva as saying:

"To those who have had direct knowledge of the French ruins, sufferings, and losses in the war, the viewpoint of far away America appears somewhat like the viewpoint of the Star Sirius. However, the experience of President Wilson shows that there is a disadvantage in considering European problems from so high and so far."

This same article, which was carried in the press universally with a big display indicating that officialdom had called attention to it, then continued:

"It is not very elegant to call upon France to choose between American and German friendship when American friendship has not shown itself in very effective fashion.

Solidarity with British.

"The Washington reaction is explained by the strict solidarity between the British and the United States. Continental harmony is an obstacle to British offensives. The United States has gone 'all out' for a British victory. It cannot be impartial or neutral any more."

BRITISH DOWN 5 NAZI FIGHTER PLANES IN BATTLE OVER COAST

LONDON, May 19 (AP).—Five German fighters were shot down off the south English coast this afternoon without the loss of a single British craft, the air ministry news service announced tonight. The five planes downed were part of a formation of 10 German craft intercepted by only four British Spitfires. [The Germans said four British planes were downed].

German planes bombed southwestern and eastern sections of England tonight, but no large scale raid developed.

German Attacks at Sea.

BERLIN, May 19 (AP).—German planes sank a British submarine, destroyed six British commercial vessels, including two tankers, and damaged several others in Sunday and Monday actions, it was announced tonight. In addition, a British cruiser and two destroyers were struck in a Nazi air attack on Suda bay of the Greek island of Crete.

ZAMZAM 'MAY BE SAFE,' 2 BRITISH BROADCASTS SAY

Conflicting rumors concerning the fate of the Zamzam came over the radio last night.

Two London broadcasts indicated the possibility that the Egyptian liner might be safe. The Berlin radio reported that the vessel "sank on the route from Recife, Brazil, to Cape Town."

One commentator on the British radio said: "It's good news that has just come in that the Zamzam may be safe after all. . . ." There was no explanation of the source of the "good news."

Earlier Edward P. Murrow, CBS correspondent in London, said in a broadcast to the United States: "The latest news to reach London concerning the reported sinking of the Zamzam quotes the American vice consul in Alexandria as saying that the ship was safe at 7:30 Sunday night, but he adds that her present whereabouts is unknown."

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

FIRE WATCHERS TO GUARD EVERY LONDON BUILDING

City Trains Special Guard in Street Fighting.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 19.—By the end of next week every building in London, including churches and partly demolished premises, will have an adequate staff of organized firewatchers, S. E. H. Daw, chief air raid precautions officer of the city corporation, said today.

A census of all male residents or employé between 18 and 60 years already has been taken in all buildings and enrolment notices will be served this week.

The object of the registration, Daw said, is to provide a pool of firewatchers from which men can be drawn to guard any building not fully staffed.

"A business firm having a firewatching staff of greater strength than is considered necessary for its own protection," he added, "will be asked to provide watchers for buildings less adequately guarded."

London Trains Street Fighters.

Several thousand men in the London county council home guard are being trained in street fighting and are looking forward to a new course in the use of special anti-tank and "Tommy" gun equipment that they will receive shortly.

The guardsmen are stationed in offices, hospitals, repair shops, houses, and estates over all London and, should the capital be invaded, will defend their places of work and the streets around them.

A Bearded Era Feared.

Long hair and beards seem to be indicated as a result of a shortage of barbers and razor blades. Even a suggestion that women replace men in barbershops does not promise to solve the problem.

"If women are to replace the men barbers where are they to come from?" asked Mrs. Ida J. Tinkler, secretary of the hairdressers parliamentary council.

"Ninety-six per cent of the women hairdressers may be liable to registration for war work. Of the remainder, few have had any real experience at shaving and men's haircutting.

"Barbers have lost more than half of their assistants and nearly half the master barbers themselves are of military age.

High Wages—but No Takers.

"The barbers in Stafford have no male assistants left and cannot get any one to replace them, even tho wages are soaring. Some master barbers are offerings houses with rent free, as well as wages of $20 to $24 a week. Soon there will be no assistants of military age left in barber shops anywhere."

Men who shave themselves face a shortage of razor blades because the government, to save material and labor, has reduced supplies to 25 per cent of peacetime quantities.

U. S. PLANS ARMS DEAL TO BALANCE CANADIAN TRADE

Washington, D. C., May 19 [Special].—Early placement of United States orders for Canadian made munitions and material was indicated in authoritative quarters here today.

This would constitute the first practical step in using Canadian industry to aid this country's rearmament program for the basic purpose of helping maintain Canada's balance of trade while that dominion is purchasing extraordinary amounts of this country's raw materials and products in its own war program.

The war department orders, it was understood, will consist initially of nonferrous metals, shells, rifle cartridges, trucks, gun carriages, and perhaps some items of light artillery. Edward R. Stettinius Jr. and William L. Batt of the Office of Production Management are scheduled to go to Canada next Wednesday to discuss the task involved in coördinating the Canadian and United States war effort from an industrial standpoint.

Refugees from Scotland

TWO 1,900 POUND WAR REFUGEES ARRIVE IN CITY

Two war refugees, weighing about 1,900 pounds each, arrived in the city last Saturday from Scotland. They are purebred Clydesdale horses imported by Wilson & Co., meat packers, for use in their famous six horse team.

The animals started for Canada eight months ago on a freighter. The ship was torpedoed about 1,500 miles out of Glasgow, but managed to limp back to port. The horses boarded a second ship, which was forced to turn back because of boiler trouble. The second time this ship left port it sighted a submarine, but drove it off with depth bombs. The horses were landed at St. Johns in New Brunswick, Canada, and traveled by freight car to Chicago.

Peter McFarlane, manager of the company's six horse team, met the animals in Canada and rode to Chicago with them. The transportation charges for the two animals amounted to $2,000.

New York, May 19 (AP).—The American ambassador, Joseph C. Grew, and Mrs. Grew were entertained at a tea party by the Japanese foreign minister, Yosuke Matsuoka, the news agency Domei said in a broadcast from Tokio. The foreign minister recently was host to the German and Italian ambassadors and their wives at a garden party.

What Matsuoka and Grew may have discussed was not divulged.

U.S. SHIP CARRIES SWASTIKAS AND A DEFIANT CREW

Washington, D. C., May 19 (AP).—An official report of union resistance to naval recruiting efforts aboard a swastika-adorned American merchant vessel brought the promise of a congressional investigation today and legislation was proposed to prevent possible recurrences.

Three Nazi swastikas were found painted below deck on the steamer Delta Argentina after a naval recruiting party tried unsuccessfully to sign crew members as naval reservists in New Orleans harbor May 1, Commander J. F. Shaforth of the navy judge advocate's department told the house naval committee.

Seamen on the ship were instructed by a "floating delegate" of the Seafarers' International Union [AFL] that they were not to become merchant marine naval reservists, Shaforth declared. A boatswain who offered to sign a reserve application was termed a "traitor to the union" by another member and the sailors engaged in fist fights on deck over the issue.

Chairman Carl Vinson [D., Ga.] of the committee announced that the crew members and the union representative involved would be summoned to testify after the Delta Argentina, now en route to South America, returned to a United States port.

Vinson introduced a bill to make it unlawful to interfere with naval recruiting.

MARION TALLEY WEEPS AT HER DIVORCE TRIAL

She and Husband Trade Accusations.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 19 [Special].—Opera Singer Marion Talley wept on the witness stand today and her lawyer told the court that Adolph Eckstrom, her estranged husband, once demanded $150,000 as the price for information concerning the whereabouts of their 5 year old daughter, Susan.

The lawyer, Isaac Pacht, also said: "We might as well admit, because it will appear in evidence, that Miss Talley engaged in indiscretions with Mr. Eckstrom prior to their marriage, as a result of which their daughter was born one month after their marriage."

A Slight Variation.

It was while dealing with that subject that Miss Talley wept. She made the same admission that her lawyer made, but she said the baby was born three weeks after the marriage. She testified that after a romantic association with Eckstrom, who was giving her singing lessons, and on the eve of a great opportunity in motion pictures, she discovered that she soon would become a mother.

As she testified, the brown haired Missouri girl sobbed more and more until finally she could not go on, and buried her face in her handkerchief. Superior Judge Ingall W. Bull recessed court until tomorrow.

Miss Talley and Eckstrom both are seeking divorces, and both sides traded accusations today. Lawyer Pacht said the evidence would show that Eckstrom hid the couple's child from Miss Talley for three years, demanding $150,000 before he would tell where the child was.

"Wholesale Sex Infractions."

Pacht also charged that "Eckstrom recklessly charged Miss Talley with wholesale sex infractions, wholesale acts of adultery with seven men for the purpose of destroying her reputation in the musical world." Pacht added that Eckstrom "did not have the slightest evidence to support these false charges. Why, among other men with whom Eckstrom charges his wife with indiscreet conduct is her New York attorney, John S. Keith, a man 60 years of age."

Keith was in the courtroom.

Philbrick McCoy, Eckstrom's lawyer, said he expected to show that at the birth of Susan, Miss Talley gave fictitious names for the mother, father, and child on the birth certificate, and that when she later signed a movie contract "she posed as childless and arranged to keep the child hidden in St. Paul for the six months that her film contract was to run."

OTTAWA REFUSES TO HELP BURN LINDBERGH BOOKS

OTTAWA, Ont. May 19 [Special].—In reply to a proposal of the "100 club," a war service organization, that copies of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's books in the public library here be publicly burned in connection with the victory loan campaign, Mayor Stanley Lewis said today the city has no official connection with the campaign. Therefore, he added, the proposal is not a matter for its consideration. Lewis revealed he has received letters of protest from Americans regarding the proposal to burn Col. Lindbergh's books. Supporters of the proposal argue that they have as much right to say what they think of him as Col. Lindbergh has to say what he thinks.

Ban Voted in Toronto.

Day by Day on the Farm

By GAIL COMPTON

Cattle Fatten Up.

May 19, 1941.

THE heavy cattle in the feed lot at the Du Page county farm are a sight that would gladden the eye of any feeder or stock buyer. The big white faces weigh around 1,100 pounds, and the fat rolls and ripples over their backs and loins with every step they take.

Wandering back and forth on the cement floor of the lot, they are a perfect example of intelligent feeding and care. Their red coats are smooth and shiny, their eyes white and clear, and their appetites are tremendous.

The cattle ration has undergone a big change since the 77 steers went into the feed lot in November. Then they were started on small amounts of ground corn and cob, with heavy feedings of hay and legume silage. Since then the amount of roughage has been cut down and the poundage of corn increased. The daily ration now consists of four pounds of hay, four pounds of silage, 22 pounds of corn, mineral, and half a pound of oil meal per head.

Hogs Growing Rapidly.

The hogs that are following the steers show the results of this heavier feeding as they are growing rapidly. Relying only on what they pick up in the lot, the hogs are getting fat at no expense to the farm. When they are sold they can be considered pure profit.

The farm manager is watching the beef market closely, as the cattle could be sold at any time now. He has decided, however, to feed the herd at least 30 days more and perhaps longer. Market conditions indicate a growing demand for large carcasses, and the manager may feed the cattle until they weigh around 1,500 pounds. Big beef is attracting the quartermaster corps of the army, and the farm cattle may be fed to meet this demand.

The berry patch on the farm is flourishing, and the bushes seem to promise an excellent crop this summer. The strawberries are in blossom, and the delicate white flowers show no sign of having been harmed by frosts. Several rows of strawberries will be cut out, the patch being too large. Last year the farm had more strawberries than it could handle.

Grape Leaves Glossy.

Tiny buds are showing in the vineyard, and the grape leaves are a glossy green. The vines are healthy and growing rapidly, altho they were pruned later than usual this year. The dewberry bushes are covered with big, hard buds, and thorns on the stems help to discourage the birds and casual pickers from harvesting an early crop.

The purple youngberries are flourishing and the blackberries are coming along rapidly. The raspberries are about the only bushes that show any sign of the hard winter. Some of the top wood on the bushes was harmed and now looks lifeless. At the base of the bushes, however, there is a luxuriant new growth which should bear heavily. The gooseberry and currant bushes are a healthy green and have a profusion of buds.

A survey of the berry patch indicates there will be plenty of fruit this year for pies, canning, jellies, and jams. The farm workers already are discussing which kind of berries they prefer for breakfast.

GERMANS PRESS JAPAN FOR STAND ON U. S. CONVOYS

Seek to Clear Aims Under Axis Pact.

TOKIO, May 19 (AP).—How Japan and the other axis powers might deal with any new situation in the world conflict, particularly United States convoying of material to Britain, has been the subject of frequent conversations among German, Italian and Japanese diplomats recently, informed sources said tonight.

The crux of last week's discussions was whether convoying could be construed as aggression under article three of the tripartite pact, which Japan signed eight months ago.

Article three provides that Japan, Germany and Italy "undertake to assist one another with all political, economic and military means when one of the three contracting parties is attacked by a power at present not involved in the European war or in the Sino-Japanese conflict.

Discuss Meaning of "Attack."

Around the word "attacked" has centered much of the conversation among Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka, German Ambassador Eugen Ott and Italian Ambassador Mario Indelli. Some months ago, Matsuoka told foreign correspondents that the article could be invoked only in event of aggression.

The German point of view is that American convoys of British war materials shipments would constitute aggression, but how widely this view is held among Japanese officials is not known.

The newspaper Kokumin, in comment rather typical of the press, which declared that United States participation in the war is only a matter of time, said:

"Japan's attitude is very simple. All depends on what America is going to do."

Jap Course Still in Doubt.

This still leaves unsaid what Japan might do if the United States should announce its decision to convoy, and it is understood that Germany is pressing for a Japanese expression on the matter before any such policy might be declared.

In this connection, there is increasing interest among Japanese officials in the "fireside chat" that President Roosevelt will make on May 27. This speech will be watched closely as a possible clue to future United States action, particularly since it now is reliably believed in Tokio that Japanese troops in China are in a difficult position because of lack of materials.

Russia Extends Aid to China.

New York, May 18 (AP).—A British radio report heard tonight by the Columbia Broadcasting system said the Chungking, China, government has announced extension of its agreement with Moscow for exchange of goods between China and Russia. Russia has agreed to provide arms and ammunition for China's minerals and other raw materials, the radio said.

GREEN INSPECTS ILLINOIS TROOPS IN DUST CLOUDS

Finds Training Benefits Camp Forrest Men.

BY CLAY GOWRAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Camp Forrest, Tenn., May 19.—Sixteen thousand soldiers of Illinois' 33d division—marching thru heavy, swirling dust which at times was so dense that it obscured them from view—paraded past Gov. Dwight H. Green of Illinois this evening in a sunset review which brought to a close the governor's first day of inspection at Camp Forrest.

The dust, which is about the only thing that can be raised on the barren red clay upon which this huge training center is built, was the principal feature of the review despite tremendous efforts to combat it.

Tons of Water on Parade Ground.

For hours before the parade army water carts and camp fire trucks dumped tons of water on the parade ground. They were successful in part. The area immediately in front of the reviewing stand in which Gov. Green and Maj. Gen. Samuel T. Lawton, commander of the 33d division, stood was well soaked, and the air there was clear as the troops passed. Over the acres on which the regiments formed for the march, however, the dust rose in huge clouds.

Moving to the line of review, the files of soldiers resembled dim, gray ghosts marching thru a thick, dirty haze. At times entire companies were blotted out; again the dust would lie close to the ground and the troops appeared to be half men, torsoes floating along a few feet above the ground.

The 11,000 Illinois National Guardsmen who form the nucleus of the 33d division are a leaner, harder lot now than they were when they arrived at Camp Forrest two months ago. Even the 5,000 selective service draftees who have been sent to the division during recent weeks already are more fit than when they came in.

Here and There Ranks Are Ragged.

The review showed that the division has benefited greatly by its two months in camp. It also revealed that it still has training to do. Here and there, ranks were ragged and rifles were cocked at unkempt angles. Some company guidons did not snap to the horizontal position with precision as they were dipped to the governor.

Earlier today, shortly after his arrival, Gov. Green inspected the small arms ranges which dot the camp. Here he watched as Illinois soldiers demonstrated their accuracy with rifles and the .22 caliber machine guns which they use in practice.

The governor was accompanied during this inspection by the state legislators and state officials who have accompanied him to Camp Forrest. They include Senators Arnold P. Benson, Earl B. Searcy, John M. Lee, and Charles F. Carpentier, and State Representatives Elmer J. Schnackenberg, Robert J. Branson, Reed F. Cutler, and Howard J. Gorman; John Chapman, Gov. Green's personal secretary; Adjt. Gen. Leo M. Boyle of Illinois, and Harry Canfield, head of the state department of reports.

Mercury Hovers Near 90 Degrees.

The mercury hovered around 90 degrees when the governor and his party left the train at nearby Tullahoma, where he was met by Maj. Gen. Lawton and scout car escort. Following a parade to the camp Gov. Green was honored with a 19 gun salute.

Tomorrow Gov. Green will visit all training areas, schools, and regimental headquarters in the camp. After lunch he will address the 1,200 officers of the Illinois division before boarding the train which will return him to Springfield.

Shot by Negro Bandit as He Walks with Daughter

Abraham Holtzman, 50 years old, of Brooklyn, N. Y., a tailor, early today was shot by one of four colored bandits who attempted to hold up Holtzman and his daughter, Mrs. Benjamin Segal, 27, of Denver, Colo., as they were walking in front of 6025 St. Lawrence avenue. The bandits fled without taking any money. At the Woodlawn hospital physicians said Holtzman's condition was not serious. Holtzman and Mrs. Segal both were visiting relatives here.

SEEK U. S. COURT AID IN REOPENING KLEVER SHAMPAY

Samuel J. and Emanuel Ginsburg, partners with Mrs. Murray Humphreys, wife of the gangster, in the ownership of the Klever Shampay cleaning plant at 4631 Cottage Grove avenue which Mayor Kelly closed on April 28, appealed to the federal District court yesterday for aid in getting the plant reopened.

The plant was closed following the bat murder of Anton Gorczak, driver for the Republic Cleaners of Cicero, a rival concern which had taken customers away from the Klever Shampay company. The murder was the third of its kind in recent years in which the victim was beaten to death by goons.

Humphreys, known as the chief aid to Frank [The Enforcer] Nitti, new chief of the old Capone gang, was questioned about the murder but was freed on a writ of habeas corpus. When State's Attorney Courtney learned that Humphreys, thru his wife's stock holdings, dominated the cleaning company, he asked Mayor Kelly to revoke the plant's license.

GENE M'DONALD SUES OVER YACHT ANCHORAGE SHIFT

Eugene F. McDonald Jr., sportsman and head of the Zenith Radio corporation, filed suit in federal court yesterday asking that coast guard officials be restrained from refusing him a permit to anchor his 185 foot yacht Mizpah in Chicago harbor off Grant park.

The suit, filed by Attorney Irving Herriott, contends that altho McDonald has anchored his yacht there for a number of years he has been notified that the harbor is now reserved for boats that are no longer than 100 feet. McDonald contends that the harbor is the only safe place for his boat at Chicago.

Coast guard officials said McDonald and other owners of large yachts have been told to anchor their boats in the harbor north of Navy pier so that more smaller craft can use the better protected harbor off Grant park.

DEATH IN AUTO HELD ACCIDENT.

The death of James L. McCarthy, 45 years old, 7833 Emerald avenue, a civil service guard at the army quartermaster department, 1819 Pershing road, who was found dead of exhaust fumes in his car Sunday, was declared an accident by a coroner's jury yesterday.

Washington, D. C., May 19 (AP).—A 50 year old United States navy captain, William M. Quigley, has been appointed chief of the general staff of the Peruvian navy—a post corresponding to this country's office of chief of naval operations.

Announcing word of the appointment by President Prado of Peru, navy officials said today that they could recall no precedent. They added, however, that Quigley, as chief of the American naval mission to Peru, could be assigned by the Peruvian government to any post or rank.

LOOP TRAFFIC'S a cinch!

GM GENERAL MOTORS

THERE ARE FEW PLACES in the world where car control is as important as in Chicago's Loop. And no car in the world gives you as complete and sensitive control in traffic as an Oldsmobile with Hydra-Matic Drive.

With Hydra-Matic Drive, you can creep along as slowly as you please—or step out like lightning to take advantage of an opening—all without pressing a clutch or taking either hand from the wheel. All your faculties are free to concentrate on starting, steering and stopping. For, of all the new "drives," only Hydra-Matic is completely automatic!

Every other "drive" has some kind of clutch, which you must use some of the time, or accept sluggish getaway. Every other "drive" requires some kind of shift to go through all forward speeds. Every other "drive" falls short of Hydra-Matic's standards of performance—not only in traffic, but on the open road.

For, important as Hydra-Matic is in heavy traffic, its greatest thrill is the sensational performance it provides throughout the entire speed range. You cruise more smoothly and quietly. You have a special pick-up gear to whisk you around slow-moving cars and trucks. You get better, safer traction on slippery streets. You save money on gasoline.

Although it's still the newest, newsiest, new car feature on the market, Hydra-Matic has proved itself in the hands of 100,000 Oldsmobile owners. Before you buy any new car this spring, see your nearest Oldsmobile dealer and take a Hydra-Matic drive!

(Prices and Specifications Subject to Change Without Notice.)

Hydra-Matic Drive★

SAVES 486 DRIVING OPERATIONS FROM CITY HALL TO CITY LIMITS

In an official, comparative test run from the City Hall to the city limits at Niles, via Milwaukee Avenue, an Oldsmobile equipped with Hydra-Matic Drive saved 486 driving motions (280 clutch operations and 206 manual gear shifts) over a car with standard transmission—as shown by the Effort-Meter, a scientific instrument that counts and registers the number of gear shifts, the number of clutch pushes, and the period of time the clutch is under foot pressure. In the standard transmission car, the clutch was under foot pressure 37% of the time. Convincing evidence that Hydra-Matic Drive saves work!

DRAFT BOARDS TOLD TO DEFER VITAL WORKERS

State Director Cites OPM Studies of Manpower.

Paul G. Armstrong, state director of selective service, called on Illinois draft boards yesterday to avoid summoning to service men who are more useful to national preparedness in their civilian occupations.

He cited recent studies by the Office of Production Management which said the supply of man power is dangerously low in 17 professional and technical fields necessary to the welfare of the civilian population.

The OPM said a critical situation exists in nearly all engineering professions and in a number of other fields, including medicine and dentistry.

Critical Fields Described.

Armstrong said the fields in which a more critical situation exists are civil, electrical, chemical, mining, and mechanical engineering, and chemistry, medicine, and dentistry. Other professions in which the OPM said man power is low or where a shortage is threatened are agricultural engineering, sanitary engineering, biology, bacteriology, pharmacy, and four branches of geology: geophysics, meteorology, hydrology, and cartography.

Armstrong recognized, however, the inability of the selective service administration to enforce its request for deferments. He said the selective service act prohibits blanket deferment of any classes or groups.

"The local board has full authority and responsibility, subject to appeal, for deciding whether a registrant is a 'necessary man' and whether he should be selected or deferred," Armstrong said.

Each Board Is Autonomous.

The selective service act makes each draft board autonomous. Neither state nor local officials may exercise authority over decisions of a local board. A draftee may appeal from a local board's decision to a board of appeals, and from that body to the President.

Three hundred draft board psychiatrists from 14 states met in the Palmer House yesterday for a conference with national draft officials. Dr. Martin Cooley, consultant to the United States Veterans administration, urged them to keep mental misfits out of the army.

Dr. Cooley cited costs of nearly a billion dollars between 1923 and 1940, paid for compensation or hospital treatment to veterans with service connected nervous disorders. He said these claimants in one year were nearly 20 per cent of all veterans receiving compensation.

MEDICAL CENTER CREDITED WITH A JOB WELL DONE

6,700 Men Making Rapid Strides in Training.

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Camp Grant, Ill., May 19.—Enrolled in the huge medical replacement center in this historic camp are 6,700 young men, and the specific idea is to make them into soldiers first and into medical aids next.

In this, Lieut. Col. J. I. Martin, executive officer of the medical center, who comes from Evanston, Ill., can be credited with performing an excellent job. Most of the men have been in training only eight or nine weeks, yet their showing on parade and in other military departments indicates rapid progress.

This medical replacement center is one of two in the United States. The other is at Camp Lee, Va. It is designed to turn out 28,000 trained men annually.

Trained in Military Routine.

In this center the men are put thru basic military routine for seven weeks, then thru intensive medical unit work for six weeks. After that they are assigned to regular units in posts thruout the country.

Veteran army men here predict that when these Camp Graint trainees report to regular units, they will fit in smoothly with the regular medical service men.

Col. Martin and his officers keep on the lookout for particular qualifications and attainments which will best fit the trainees for a specialized field in medical or hospital work. Men designated for specialized departments are trained intensively in those branches. Thus a man selected for a stretcher bearer is taught every conceivable method of handling a stretcher under the widest range of conditions.

Most of the training is under actual field conditions, on the theory that such education will provide the best all around background, and even qualify them for inside hospital duties. The general curriculum, of course, covers work in first aid, care of gas victims, illness, sanitation, and nursing. It includes lectures and classroom studies.

Typical Daily Program.

Most of the men are about 24 years old. Life in the medical center is rigid. The day begins with reveille at 5:45 a. m. and ends with parade at 5 p. m. A typical day includes calesthenics, instruction in guard duty and close order drill, military courtesy and discipline, communication in combat, hospital ward training, military sanitation, and first aid.

When the day's work is done, the men's time becomes more or less their own. If not on special duty, they may visit nearby Rockford at any time. In camp they have two movie houses, with a daily change of pictures. Sports are voluntary and not organized, and no special attention is given to social life.

The daily mess hall menu is wholesome and sufficient.

Between 9,000 and 10,000 men, including transients, make up the population of the whole camp. They are housed in new barracks. In addition to the permanent structures there are 1,500 new concrete floors for tents in case more troops are sent here.

UNION PRINTERS VOTE TOMORROW ON 'AFL RETURN

Whether the International Typographical union will reaffiliate with the American Federation of Labor will be decided by a referendum vote tomorrow among the 80,000 members of the union thruout the country. The ITU was suspended from the AFL Jan. 29, 1940, for refusal to pay $20,000 in assessments levied in October, 1938, to finance the AFL fight against the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

In January of this year the AFL executive board voted to allow the ITU to reaffiliate without the payment of penalties.

MICHIGAN QUADS OBSERVE THEIR 11TH BIRTHDAY

Lansing, Mich., May 19 [Special].—Attired alike in pink organdy dresses, the Morlok quadruplet sisters celebrated their 11th birthday today at a school party in which all of their 5-B classmates participated.

Their teacher, Miss Louise Hunter, arranged a special program, with children playing various musical instruments, singing and giving readings. The quads themselves are accomplished singers and dancers.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Morlock, parents of the sisters, Edna, Sarah, Wilma, and Helen, helped mark the day with a special birthday dinner, but their mother ruefully admitted that the parental birthday gift, a set of new dresses, "haven't arrived yet so they'll just have to have something to look forward to."

House Votes 350 Million Naval Auxiliaries Bill

Washington, D. C., May 19 (AP).—After brief discussion with no vocal opposition, the house today passed and sent to the senate a bill authorizing construction of 550,000 tons of naval auxiliaries at an estimated cost of 350 million dollars. Naval committee members told the house the authorized construction would provide about 58 ships, bringing the navy's total auxiliary strength to 396 vessels totaling 1,652,181 tons.

FOES OF WAR ASK ROOSEVELT TO MOVE FOR PEACE

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 19.—Gravely disturbed by rumblings of an imminent move by the administration to plunge the country into an undeclared war, noninterventionists in congress today renewed their appeals for an attempt by President Roosevelt to bring about a negotiated peace in Europe.

Among those suggesting that the President offer his services as a mediator were Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], leader of the senate antiwar forces, and Representative John M. Vorys [R., O.], and John E. Rankin [D., Miss.].

The noninterventionists attributed great significance to the sudden peace offensive of the German controlled French press, which has proposed that President Roosevelt intervene as a mediator in an attempt to end the war.

Linked to Hess Affair.

The suggestions of the French newspapers resulted in speculation that Rudolph Hess, deputy fuehrer of the Nazi party, was sent to England by Adolf Hitler to ascertain the terms of a possible peace settlement. In any event, according to the noninterventionists, Hitler would be likely to listen to reasonable peace terms when confronted by the prospect of ultimate American participation in the war as the alternative.

The fear of noninterventionists that the administration is about to make the final plunge without attempting to bring about a negotiated settlement was based on Secretary of State Cordell Hull's statement last night that "we will find a way" to deliver war munitions to Britain; on President Roosevelt's press conference reminder last Friday that the United States has fought two undeclared naval wars to preserve freedom of the seas, and on rumors that the President is considering the seizure of Dakar, French West African base.

Wants War Makers Ousted.

"I think the President of the United States, notwithstanding his outbursts against Hitler, Mussolini, Japan and France, is in a position as the representative of 130 million peace loving people of the most powerful nation in the world to bring about an armistice and insist upon the elimination of Hitler and his war makers in Germany and of the war makers in England," Senator Wheeler said.

"I think he owes it to the American people to try it. At the same time he ought to get rid of the war makers in his own cabinet.

"The people of England, the people of Italy, the people of Germany, and the people of the United States want peace. I'm not interested in the royal families of Europe, who are over here asking us to try to re-establish their power and prestige. They have brought disaster to Europe and they ought to be thrown out."

Senator Wheeler expressed "violent disagreement" with Secretary Hull's implied threat about the use of convoys to plunge the country into an undeclared war. But he commended the secretary's five-point "peace" program, including free access to raw materials for all nations and the elimination of trade restrictions.

The Smoothies will do their own arrangement of "Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy" and a medley of old popular hits.

The orchestra, under the direction of Harold Stokes, will be featured in "I've Got Rhythm" and "Limehouse Blues." Blair Walliser will be in charge of production.

NEW RECRUITING CHIEF INSTALLED IN NAVY OFFICE

With a ceremony similar to that used in turning over the command of a ship at sea, Lieut. David N. Goldenson was installed yesterday at the United States courthouse as officer in charge of the Chicago navy recruiting district.

The office personnel of 45 men was drawn up at quarters as the retiring officer, Commander Elliott M. Senn, read the orders detaching him from the command. Lieut. Goldenson then read the orders placing him in charge of the station, turned to Commander Senn, saluted, and said: "I relieve you, sir." Commander Senn returned the salute, replied, "I am relieved, sir," and the transfer was complete.

Lieut. Goldenson recently was recalled to active service after having been retired while on duty in China several years ago. He had been in the steel business here for the last six years. Commander Senn becomes inspector of the nine state central recruiting district.

3 Young Chicagoans Held to Jury on Girls' Charges

Three young men were held to the Kane county grand jury in bonds of $5,000 each yesterday by Justice of the Peace A. J. Strickman in Elgin on charges of attempted rape. The complaining witnesses were two Austin girls, who escaped from the trio's automobile near a South Elgin quarry and notified police. Elgin patrolmen captured the suspects after an auto chase. The prisoners identified themselves as Robert McKay, 18 years old; Robert Morgan, 20, and Joseph Gregorio, 23, and said they live in Chicago.

BARRETT DRAFTS 8 NEW BILLS TO END VOTE FRAUDS

Would Step Up Penalties to 10 Years in Prison.

Springfield, Ill., May 19 [Special].—Eight bills to effect election law changes, designed to put teeth into vote fraud prosecutions, will be introduced in the state legislature tomorrow, Attorney General George F. Barrett announced today.

During his campaign last fall the attorney general promised that if elected he would wage a determined fight on vote frauds. To that end, he established an anti-vote fraud division of his office in Chicago. Headed by Assistant Attorney General Albert J. Meserow, the division aided in drafting the eight bills.

Five of the proposed changes make it a felony instead of a misdemeanor to violate certain sections of the law. These violations would be punishable by fines as high as $5,000, one to 10 years in prison, or both.

Backed by Civic Bodies.

"Leaders of many civic organizations have approved this legislation and are prepared to back us in our fight to stop the vote thief," Barrett said.

Representative Elroy C. Sandquist [R., Chicago], chairman of the house election committee, will introduce the bills. As outlined by the attorney general, they are:

1. A revision to make it a felony to violate the provision for voting with assistance in a general election. [Now rated a misdemeanor.]

2. The same change in regard to primary elections.

3. A revision to require that one judge of a general election reside outside of the precinct, ward, or voting district.

4. Revision to require one judge of election to live outside the precinct in city, village, and incorporated town elections.

Blow At Registration Frauds.

5. Makes it a felony instead of a misdemeanor to register falsely for an election, to register more than once or to aid any person in false registration.

6. Makes it a felony instead of a misdemeanor to vote more than once; try to vote more than once; vote under any other person's name, living or dead; hinder an election official; or to try in any way, either by force or bribery, to attempt to influence any person in casting his vote.

7. Makes it a felony instead of a misdemeanor for an election official to keep a false poll list; or to knowingly insert in his poll list any false statement, name, or any check, alteration, or marks.

8. Amends the law in regard to absentee voting.

Curb on Chain Voting.

Under the eighth proposal, a person applying for an absentee ballot will name the county he expects to be in on election day. The ballot will be mailed to a designated official in that county, and the absentee voter will call for his ballot, mark it, and hand it back to be mailed to his home county.

Such procedure would leave the ballot in the absentee voter's hands just long enough to mark it. If he does not appear, the unmarked ballot will be returned.

"This will provide an effective way of stopping one of the most vicious types of vote stealing—chain balloting," Barrett said.

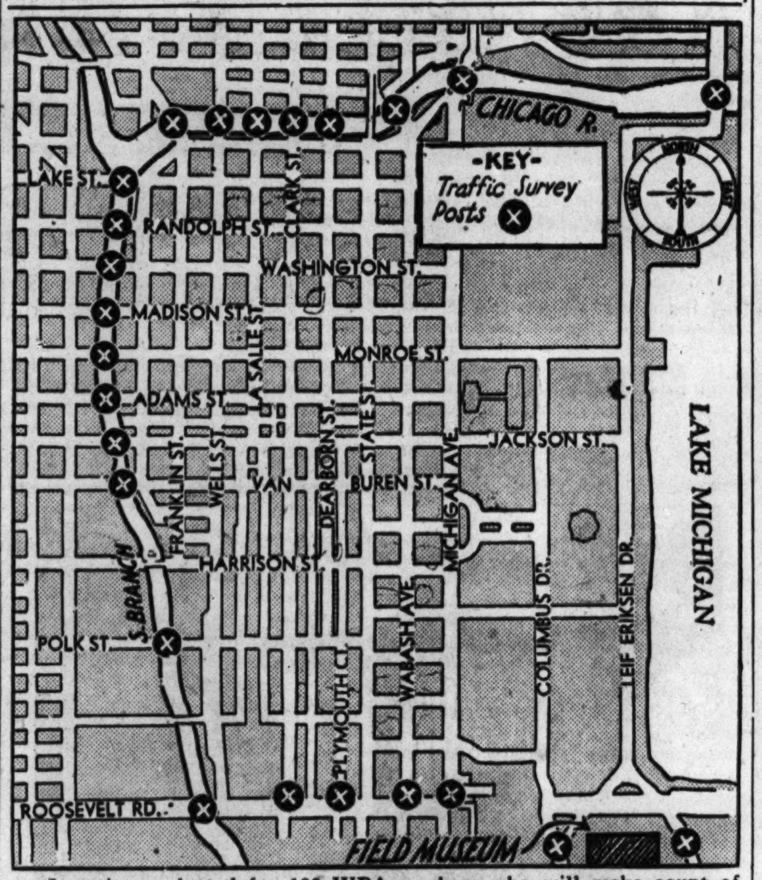
386 LIQUOR SALE PLACES CLOSED IN LICENSE DRIVE

Police took action yesterday and last night against taverns and other places selling liquor whose owners had failed to obtain liquor licenses, due May 1.

Up to midnight 386 places had been closed or prohibited from selling liquor. Those closed were taverns and liquor stores. Those prohibited from selling liquor were drug stores with liquor departments. Only the liquor departments of the drug stores were affected.

Police served notices on 632 places. Almost half hastily procured the licenses and reopened. More are expected to obtain licenses today and to reopen. Up to 5 p. m. yesterday 8,344 licenses had been sold. City Collector Louis Rixmann said final figures probably will show a decrease from last year, with many liquor places going out of business because of higher taxes and increased cost of food.

Where Traffic Count Will Be Made



Locations selected for 100 WPA workers who will make count of auto traffic in downtown district tomorrow.

On Duty All Day

More than 100 WPA workers will take positions on bridges and thorofares carrying traffic into the downtown district at 7 a. m. tomorrow to make the annual count of vehicles and passengers entering and leaving the area. The workers will be on duty until 7 p. m.

The inventory is sponsored by Lester J. Sorenson, city traffic engineer, and the street traffic committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce. Traffic will move as usual during the survey, Sorenson said.

Last year 184,082 vehicles entered the district and 174,454 departed. Passengers entering the area totaled 829,537, while 759,441 departed.

Street car, elevated, bus, and railroad passenger totals will be supplied by the companies themselves and added to the WPA count for the final figures, Sorenson said.

MAYOR RENEWS TRACTION LOAN APPEAL TODAY

Mayor Kelly, Philip Harrington, subway commissioner, and three representatives of the city's transit lines left for Washington, D. C., yesterday to renew efforts to obtain a 53 million dollar federal loan for Chicago transit modernization.

The five plan to confer today with Jesse Jones, federal loan administrator, and John M. Carmody, Federal Works agency administrator. Harrington said changes made last month in the proposed city transit unification ordinance will be explained to the federal officials. The changes would eliminate compusory acquisition of the bus company and leave pension and depreciation policies to a regulatory body.

Traction representatives accompanying the mayor are Jacob I. Grossman, attorney for the surface lines' management board; William J. Friedman, counsel for first mortgage bond holders of the south side surface lines, and Joseph E. Nolan, attorney for the elevated lines.

DUBUQUE CLEANER DROWNS.

Dubuque, Ia., May 19 [Special].—John G. Appel Sr., 52, owner of a dry cleaning establishment, drowned in the Mississippi river here last night when the boat in which he was riding capsized. Three other occupants of the boat, including his two sons, were rescued.

Save Our Republic

INTO THE WAR ZONE.

Mr. Roosevelt told the inquiring reporters that he didn't think Germany would be able to blockade the Red sea and that the United States was merely adhering to its unbroken policy of insisting on the freedom of the seas. When Mr. Stimson as a proxy voice demanded the convoying of supply ships, he referred to piracy and intimated that if an American warship encountered a raider it would mean merely dealing with outlawry on the sea.

When he made that reference there was an expectation that more would be heard of it and Mr. Roosevelt obliges. He refers to the Barbary pirates which our new republic had to fight and to the undeclared war with France to protect our shipping. With these illustrations he prepares a way for new naval encounters along these lines.

Mr. Roosevelt's reversion to the freedom of the seas is a departure from the position he took when he started his war moves by asking for repeal of the neutrality act. Mr. Wilson, when the other world war began, did insist upon freedom of the seas. He demanded that Germany abide by the recognized rules of naval warfare and he also addressed himself sharply to the British government, protesting against violation of American rights.

Mr. Roosevelt in 1939 said in effect that this was a mistake. He said that it gave rise to the incidents which drew America into the other war. It allowed American ships to go into dangerous zones where they were destroyed. It was a cause of war and he didn't want any of it. He wanted authority to prohibit American ships and American citizens from going into war zones and that would preserve the peace. He put freedom of the seas on the shelf as a dangerous doctrine and congress gave him the authority for which he asked.

Now he uses that authority to open up a war zone and is back in Mr. Wilson's position without any of Mr. Wilson's consistency in the matter. Furthermore, he has no reason to hope, as Mr. Wilson might have had, that he can carry his point and make the American policy respected. Mr. Wilson almost did. But what he got out of it in the end, for this and for other reasons, was the war he said he was trying to avoid.

Mr. Roosevelt rejects his own policy and goes back to the Wilsonian principles because he wants the war he said he wanted to avoid. If he had persisted along the lines he first adopted, he might have made it very difficult for this country to find any cause for war. If he were doing now what he promised in September, 1939, the peace of the United States might not be threatened. He has reversed himself on all points, he has betrayed the faith he pledged to the people in the beginning, and he is doing every war provoking thing that he said he would not do.

The authority he asked for one purpose he is using for an exactly contradictory purpose, his cash and carry has become contribution and convoy, his war zone restrictions have been split to permit the carrying of material of war by American ships into the Egyptian war zone, and he asks the German raiders what they are going to do about it.

What he says, in effect, is here's an American ship; so what?

THE FASCIST CRACK UP.

The duke of Aosta, viceroy of Ethiopia, has surrendered with his troops to the British at the fortress where he was endeavoring to make a last stand for the possession of that portion of Mussolini's African empire. The loss of Ethiopia as a military event may be of small importance, but it again emphasizes a fact which is significant.

Italy still continues, in seeming at least, under Mussolini's system of government. It is still a Fascist state and Mussolini in all appearances continues as its ruler. In reality this total state has collapsed and is held up only by the Nazis. Without them there undoubtedly would have been an overthrow of the government which had brought Italy so many reverses.

It would seem that Fascist Italy has been reduced to the status of a minor unit in the Hitler scheme, altho pretenses of greater importance and larger coöperation are maintained. Mussolini's had his try and has failed. Without Hitler's protection he might now be a fugitive or a prisoner.

People who believe there is nothing stable in systems of government so violent, hysterical, coercive, and brutal may find encouragement in a partial substantiation of their ideas. In this connection it is to be observed that the first of the great dictatorships, that of Red Russia, has undergone a change amounting to a counter-revolution. Its internal stability is apparently unshaken, but its departures from doctrine have been as violent in character as they were in method.

Russia now is a frustration of many of the economic and political ideas with which it started. Politically it is a complete failure if its achievements are measured by any of the Marxist-Lenin prospectuses, altho its apologists may say that it still economically represents the obliteration of capitalism.

There is, of course, a possibility that a prostrate Europe, exhausted by a prolonged war, will be exposed to the demoralization which nearly wrecked it after the other war. If Stalin has any waiting policy he may have an eye on such a possibility.

MR. HULL'S PHONY WORLD.

Mr. Hull's plans for the reorganization of the world upon a durable foundation for an enduring peace must have caused many of his fellow citizens who recall the Wilsonian crusade to feel sick of mind if not of heart. Mr. Hull and Mr. Roosevelt did a bit of their usual teamwork, offering similar ideas on alternate days as part of the warmup for Mr. Roosevelt's postponed but still projected talk to the nation.

Mr. Wilson had his 14 points; Mr. Hull has his 5 points. With the five, Mr. Hull endeavors to encircle the world with a scheme compared with which Mr. Wilson's was a mere outline of police regulations. The secretary of state is a free trader, but he has blueprinted the world in which "must not" and "must" are put forward as the dictators over nationalism, commercial relations, raw material resources, international finance, and the supply of all commodities.

Mr. Hull is prowling around in a future which no one is wise enough even dimly to perceive. He assumes the approaching dawn of a world that never existed coming to smile upon a world now distracted and shattered, confronted with nothing but uncertainties. The only certainty is that if the best we could imagine would prevail even a short time, the world, released from its present dangers, would be bewildered in its effort to pick its way out of the débris.

Mr. Hull's own country is already in such a domestic predicament in spite of its supreme natural advantage that its thoughtful citizens wonder how it can succeed with the problem of recovery and reconstruction. Even if it escapes the worst that may be in store for it, its experiences, long after Mr. Hull has ceased to have any part in them, will be extraordinarily trying and painful. We are facing, putting the matter in revolutionary terms, the liquidation of the middle class. That has already begun.

This substantial element of citizenship may recover. It is going to be put thru the wringer. If there is no deliberate purpose to extinguish it, it may work out its own recovery. The forces which have been working upon it may not have intended in the beginning to carry the matter as far as they have done, but they have started something that can't be stopped before it has some unescapable consequences.

Mr. Hull's day dreams, offered to the American people as the bright glow of a remade world, are part of the persistent propaganda sounding off in Washington, but it seems hopeless when such hallucinations are found in the highest counsels of the nation.

THE SANE FOURTH BILL.

The committee on license and miscellany of the state senate is about to give consideration to the bill which would forbid the retail sale of dangerous fireworks in Illinois. The bill was subjected to close examination in the house and was approved there on April 29 by a vote of 100 to 12. The remarkable thing about that vote was not the overwhelming majority which favored the measure but the fact that as many as a dozen members could be found to vote against it.

If the bill is enacted it will not become operative this July 4, but will be available in future years to reduce the annual toll of accidents and the resultant loss of lives, of eyesight, and of children's fingers. Property damage from fires should also be considerably reduced. The bill will not forbid displays of fireworks but will require that such exhibitions be conducted under competent auspices.

Representative Thon piloted the bill thru the house; progress thru the senate will be directed by Senator Ward. The advocates of the bill know that they have public opinion on their side. Every sensible parent in the state is for the measure. The Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness is authority for the statement that 112 municipalities in the state with a total population of nearly 4,700,000 already have ordinances against the retail sale of dangerous fireworks but have expressed a desire for a state law to prevent sales in nearby unincorporated territory. In view of these circumstances it is to be hoped and expected that the bill will be given prompt consideration and approval in the senate.

The movement for a sane Fourth originated in Illinois, but already 11 states, of which Ohio and Minnesota are the latest, have gone ahead of Illinois in enacting measures similar to the one now under consideration at Springfield.

ICKES VS. ICKES.

Old fishwife Ickes, the Spanish war and world war slacker, in his capacity as cabinet member subscribes to the official doctrine that the British navy has protected our shores for a hundred years and more.

On this point Mr. Ickes, the war shouter, should consult Mr. Ickes, the head of the national park service. In the latter capacity he has issued a pamphlet for the guidance of visitors to the Antietam battlefield. The booklet bears his name. Mr. Ickes' section on "The Significance of Antietam" says among other things:

"Lee's failure . . . caused Great Britain to postpone recognition of the confederate government. No later occasion arose which seemed favorable to the British government. Probably the greatest significance of Antietam in American history, therefore, lies in the fact that if Lee had won a decisive victory, it may have foreshadowed the final independence of the confederacy. . . ."

About the same time the British navy was doing nothing to prevent the French from landing troops and supplies in Mexico in violation of the Monroe Doctrine.

Perhaps in future the British navy will be used to protect the United States and maintain the Monroe Doctrine but these have not been the traditional missions of that fleet.

Editorial of the Day

GET TOGETHER, GENTLEMEN!

[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

Mr. Willkie:	Secretary Knox:
There never was any people in the world so strong as the people of the United States. . . . There never was any people so capable of success, once their decision is made. When I think of the depths and heights within this American people, I say to Hitler: "You have never met any people like us. You had best implore whatever pagan god you believe in that you may be spared the day."	We are living in fearful danger, and the only safety for us is so to supplement the efforts of Great Britain to resist these forces of darkness that threaten the world with domination so that these evil things they represent shall not achieve a victory which would mean—and I say this in sober earnestness—the ringing down of the curtain of civilization as we know it.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

THIS WAS ILLYRIA, LADY.

The new kingdom of Croatia offers a virgin field to postage stamp collectors. Its first issue, no doubt, will be Italian with surcharge.

Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" refers to Croatia in its second scene [usually the first in acting versions]:

"What country, friends, is this?"

"This is Illyria, lady."

The new king's name, Aimone, is, we suspect, the Croatian form of Emmanuel. . . . Other Croatian kings, who wore the crown in the dark ages, were Tomislav, Drzislav, Kresimir I., II., and III., Stephen, Demetrius Zvonimir, Almos, and Petrus. The latter was killed in battle in 1097, and his shoes remained empty until the Italian Aimone stepped into them last Sunday. A vacancy of 844 years.

* * *

The general tendency among English-speaking people is to pronounce "Croat" to rhyme with "shoat." But the name is properly pronounced in two syllables, accent on the first.

Louis Adamic, the American writer of Croatian birth, has written a good book on his native land ["The Native's Return," 1934]. He dwells upon the taste for literature among the peasantry.

* * *

A bottle of Croatian hard liquor stands in the Linemaster's pantry, waiting for some special occasion or experimental drinker. It bears this lettering: "Domaca Sljivovica—Plum Brandy—Bulljan and Co., Split, Yugoslavia." Shall we open it at the coronation, or wait until Croatia repents?

CONGLOMERATE CITY.

Chicago—the unreduced conglomerate,
Strange deposit from the ethnic drift,
Compact of radium, and shale, and slate
From human stratas that upheave and shift.
Volcanic ash, and gems of every ray,
And slag, and jade, and emeralds are here,
And igneous rock and opaque clay,
And lustrous diamonds, keen and clear.
What solvents, what reagents, what retorts,
What hot alembics can reduce and part
This crude compound of countless sorts,
This mingled mass of spirit, flesh and heart?
Only freedom's sun and air can mold
And fuse and turn its dross to gold!

Emotional Life of a Contributor.

When looking at the April 25 edition of the Line my eye wandered down your column, lazily absorbing the contributions. After glancing over one particular "short," I noticed the signature, "Gloria Golton." Said I, "Gee, that sounds familiar." Suddenly the light came. "Ohmygosh, that's me" . . . and the quiet office at once became a beehive of excitement.

My boss thought I was going to have an epileptic fit. I rushed out to buy six copies of THE TRIBUNE to distribute to my friends, and called up the one-and-only. After trying to quench my exuberance he said, "So what, other people make the Line."

I rushed home and dramatically flung THE TRIBUNE copies under my parents' noses, which [the noses] they held upon reading my paragraph. Have decided to start an "Appreciation of Golton" club, but, O, woe . . . cannot find any members.

BIBLIOPHILE'S LIBRARY.

The bookshelf holds the wealth worth treasuring;
Morocco-bound, not even Time can find
And take the great pearls cultured in the mind;
Behind limp leather ancient tongues still sing.
Assurance comes (within these quiet walls)
Of high adventure that shall never cease;
This is the place where Pan still faintly calls—
This is the country of the Golden Fleece.

Safe in the honeycomb the nectar lies—
The shining words distilled from all endeavor;
The pages turn and long-lost peoples rise,
Their eyes bright stars to light the night forever;
The mind seeks no celestial hemisphere—

Among the City's Souvenirs.

Lighting a reflective stogie, we paused to observe that the current wrecking of the loop's oldest office building at 332 South La Salle street might properly be considered more than an incident. Demolition of the structure will give thousands of persons a wholly new outlook upon Chicago.

The building is directly across from the La Salle street station. From the Van Buren street windows of the waiting room, year after year, travelers have gazed upon the ancient edifice and, unconsciously, have taken from it lasting impressions of Chicago. A grain inspection office, plainly visible on one floor, revealed the city's importance as a wheat center. Legions of country boys and girls, too, have been fascinated by the lights, bustle, and "orderly confusion" that went on inside the building.

While in an archaeological mood we hasten to report that wreckers in South State street have uncovered an obsolete Americanism. On the north wall of the structure at 537 the word "saloon" stands in its ancient glory [?]. It recalls the period B. T. [before taverns].

KEEP QUIET AFTER A HEAD BLOW.

When a member of the family receives a sizable bump on the head—even tho it is thought to be of little moment—put him to bed for a day or even longer, and have him watched carefully by a well trained physician. The reason is that collapse may take place hours after the accident. In the meantime the patient may protest that he feels fine, exclaiming, "What's the sense of all this bother?" Nevertheless, fatalities have been reported following what is sometimes termed "delayed concussion."

Arteries within the skull are likely to rupture as a result of a blow. The oozing may be slow and—while the victim may come to himself rather promptly—a few hours later he may fall into unconsciousness, develop a slow pulse, breathe noisily, and show some indications of paralysis.

Not long ago a city fireman hanging to the rear end of a truck was thrown to the ground as the vehicle rounded a sharp curve. He regained his senses within two or three minutes, declined the services of a physician who had been called, and returned home. After sleeping for an hour or two he complained of shooting pains in the back of the neck and the sides of the head. He passed a rather restless night and vomited once or twice. The next day he felt quite himself and reported for duty. The third day thereafter he collapsed suddenly, exhibiting a pulse of 42 strokes per minute. Complete rest was then ordered and he was not allowed to raise his head from the pillow. Several weeks were required for recovery.

The explanation is that the pouring out of fluids from injured capillaries brought about just enough added congestion to the sensitive brain substance to cause helplessness. Quiet, with generous elimination, were necessary for absorption and for the restoration of balance to the circulation within the cranium.

A similar experience fell to the lot of a football player who was struck on the forehead during a scrimmage. He, too, suffered a sinking spell altho at first he insisted that he was all right except for a slight headache. Several weeks were demanded for total disappearance of the extra fluid which was responsible for the tension within the skull. Even to this day he has no memory of the actual event, altho he recalls perfectly that he was in the game.

Apparently many of these hemorrhages occur into the subarachnoid space—i. e., beneath one of the covering layers of the brain. Many individuals will not become insensible at all. But the symptom ensues when bleeding is fairly excessive. On the other hand, if the victim is drowsy and can be roused only with effort, caution should be exercised. A slow pulse seems to be one of the prime characteristics. This means that the medulla, where the brain joins the spinal cord—is under pressure or perhaps has been bruised.

The interval between the blow and the onset of signs of damage varies. It may be as short as two or three hours, altho the rule is that it will appear within a day or two.

We should understand that none of the patients referred to encountered fractures of the skull. In other words, there were no outward manifestations of what was happening inside. In all such cases the physician is obliged to depend upon symptoms which may be minimized by the injured one, altho they serve as important guideposts.

A "wallop" on the skull is not to be dismissed with a wave of the hand.

RESTLESS SLEEP.

G. E. writes: I fall asleep immediately after retiring, but in a few hours I am wide awake and cannot doze off again. What causes this?

REPLY.

Wakefulness results from jittery, fatigued, or excited nerves. Indigestion is a possible factor, as is any source of discomfort. Heavy bedclothing, a stuffy room, lights, or noises may be responsible.

DECREASING LEG.

J. H. S. writes: My left leg is becoming smaller than my right. There is no pain. What could cause this?

REPLY.

Perhaps the right leg is swelling, while the left remains normal. Enlargement frequently follows some obstruction in the lymph circulation. Careful examination is suggested, as a nerve lesion may be responsible.

NO CHILDREN ALLOWED.

Chicago, May 16.—Is it a crime to have children? If so, I have not been informed of this new law. For two months my husband and I trudged wearily up one street and down another hunting an apartment within our means which would accept our three children, ages 4½ and 2 years, and 8 months.

The look of terror could hardly have been more genuine on the faces of the landlords had they opened their doors and found Nazi secret police instead of two bewildered young people who had just said they had three children. Dogs—Yes! But children, why the very idea makes them shudder.

Can some one inform me why little innocent children, not yet more than babies, have suddenly become so repulsive to Chicago landlords?

LADIES' DAY AT THE BALL PARK.

Chicago, May 16.—I have been going to major league baseball games for 40 years but never in all that time have I seen a more idiotic bunch of dishwashing dodgers than that gang of females that assembles each ladies' day at Wrigley field. They screech and yelp at every foul ball like a bunch of lunatics, when there is no apparent reason for such an outburst. If they must attend ball games why don't they act like human beings and not like screwballs? Nobody is in favor of a more lusty cheer than I am when a member of the home team or the opposition makes a spectacular play, but that screeching at every foul ball can be omitted.

IN BONNIE SCOTLAND.

Mount Pulaski, Ill., May 13.—I just heard an old song over the radio, which I think fits nicely into the picture—it being only a few hours after Rudolf Hess' landing in Scotland. The song is as follows:

O where and O where has my highland laddie gone?
O where and O where has my highland laddie gone?
He's gone to fight the foe for King George upon the throne,
And it's O in my heart how I wish him safe at home.

ROYAL CARTER.

THE SPIRIT OF MUNICH.

New York, May 16.—Col. Lindbergh said that Britain and France were beaten before they had begun to fight. Does he mean that the spirit of Munich should have gone on indefinitely? That both Britain and France should have continued to give to Hitler piece after piece without protest—without an act of opposition until all was gone and Europe and Asia turned into continents of enslaved humanity?

Is this an American speaking?

BOYS WANT R. O. T. C.

Cicero, Ill., May 15.—Why doesn't Morton High school have R. O. T. C. training for the boys? It seems that with this country building up its army it would be glad to have a school with a large enrollment like Morton train its boys to be good soldiers. Every boy I know is in favor of having this training. Government, please take notice.

EATING IN SUNNY SOUTH.

New York, May 16.—May one whose palate has been affronted for 40 years by the gastronomic atrocities of the magnolia blossoms, the Dixies, the whole-hog-and-a-biscuit—5 cents, the Robert E. Lees, and other purveyors of alleged food below Mason and Dixon line, horn into the debate on southern cuisine? Aside from the swillish provender dealt to the unfortunate traveler in Japan the south is the nadir. Play this across the board, straight, place, and show, from expensive dining cars to backwoods sow belly and grits joints.

What's more it is worse now than back during McKinley's administration. The influx of southern Europeans has swamped public eating establishments, including many important hotels, from Quantico to Pecos. If their countrymen can manage to do the cooking for the invading Nazis, Adolph will need more dyspesia tablets than bullets.

There are some exceptions to the generality. More times than not cooks in private homes are tops. Then, in New Orleans, like San Francisco, it is harder to meet up with a bad meal than it is to encounter a good one in New York.

NED ALVORD.

SPREADS GOOD READING.

Pontiac, Mich., May 13.—A letter in Voice of the People says Kentuckians find THE TRIBUNE one of the "few sane newspapers dribbling into the Blue Grass state."

How about middle westerners getting THE TRIBUNE into the south? A subscription or our own copies. A month's editorials, credited "CHICAGO TRIBUNE," pasted in a scrapbook could be sent to a library, a school, neighborhood club, a small town store where folks linger, a filling station perhaps.

I paste Tribune editorials in magazines and leave them on buses. People looking for something to read always pick them up.

WOLVERINE.

SEEKS CLEWS TO A FIEND.

Chicago, May 15.—What fiend in human form ever invented the drinking fountain that squirts sideways?

What strange quirk of the mind impelled him to create a device which while offering you a drink makes the water run all over your face and chin and permits only a very few drops to trickle into your throat?

Why do landlords and public officials fall in with this dastardly scheme? Why?

THOMAS SIMA.

NEED CIVILIZING HERE.

Chicago, May 17.—THE TRIBUNE on May 14 had an item headed: "Seized Second Time by Lynch Gang; Shot to Death." Why was this rapist alive after his first offense?

MAIL CARRIER SAYS "AMEN."

Lombard, Ill., May 16.—As to your editorial on second class mail rates, I think every postal employé in the country would slap you on the back and say: "Amen, brother."

Many years ago, before the country journals had the facilities of the news gathering agencies, and before the radio and other means of disseminating the news, there may have been good reasons for subsidizing such matter. But that day, in my opinion, has long since passed and the publishing business and reading material should rise or fall on its own merits and not on governmental subsidy or transfusions.

Every man in the system who handles and carries that class of mail feels he is paying for and carrying a "dead horse."

The government undertakes to carry books all over this country at the rate of 1½ cents a pound. When the man who works and carries them asks for a niggardly increase in salary to meet the rising costs of living the higher paid officials point to the deficit in the system as a mouth stopper.

JUDGMENT FOR INJURIES.

Peoria, Ill., May 15.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—In 1931 my husband and I were seriously injured in an automobile accident. In 1934 the case was settled in the chambers of Judge Walter Stanton. The settlement consisted of a judgment against the defendant. My husband's judgment was $4,100 and mine was $4,300.

1. We have never received anything to show that we were awarded these judgments.

2. We have been told that a judgment must be renewed every seven years.

3. How do we go about renewing these judgments?

4. How can we prove that these judgments were awarded us?

5. The accident and suit took place in Cook county as we lived in Chicago at the time.

N. L.

1. It is not customary for the judgment creditor to receive any formal document. The judgment is a court order entered on the court records. Any interested party can obtain a certified copy from the clerk of the court by paying for it.

2. Correct in the sense that it would become dormant after seven years.

3. You must serve on the defendant what is called a sciere facias. The clerk of the court will be able to supply the forms. After talking with him you can decide whether to employ an attorney.

4. The judgments appear on the court records and the court will take judicial notice of that.

5. The renewal proceedings should be here.

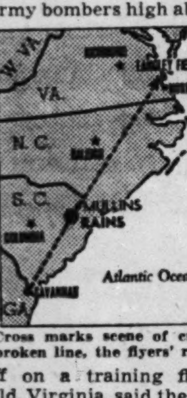
4 FLYERS KILLED AS ARMY PLANES CRASH IN MIDAIR

One Ship Hits House and Explodes; Other Burns.

Rains, S. C., May 19 (AP).—Collision of two light army bombers high above this little eastern South Carolina town, followed by fire and an explosion, cost the lives of four flyers today.



Cross marks scene of crash; broken line, the flyers' route.

Army authorities at the Savannah, Ga., air base, from which the planes had taken off on a training flight to Langley field, Virginia, said the victims were Second Lieutenant Frank B Ralston, Pittsburgh, Pa., Second Lieutenant Allen J. Moore, Reno, Nev., Sergt. David L. Boyd, Frost, Tex., and Corporal Herbert O. Pruitt, Collinsville, Miss.

Parachute Fails to Open.

One of the planes was blown to bits by an explosion as it landed atop a deserted house, and the other caught fire and burned.

Lieut. Moore jumped in his parachute, but it failed to open and he died of a broken neck while being taken to a hospital at Mullins, near here. Witnesses said Moore apparently was too near the ground when he pulled the cord of his parachute.

The two planes, leading a flight of six bombers, apparently were thrown together, as if by a gust of wind, just as they emerged from a cloudbank almost directly above the Rains schoolhouse, witnesses reported. Both appeared to be out of control immediately thereafter.

Smoke Pours from Craft.

The first to fall crashed into an open field about a mile and a half from here. Some spectators said the pilot seemed to be trying for a pancake landing in the field, but, they added, smoke was pouring from the plane, indicating it was on fire before it reached the ground. As it struck, flames shot up and consumed it quickly.

The other, from which Lieut. Moore leaped, fell a mile and a half farther to the northeast, striking the empty house and exploding.

After the accident two of the remaining four bombers in the formation continued on to Langley field, while the other two returned to the Savannah base.

SEARCH STARTS FOR PLANE WITH 2 CLEVELANDERS

Cleveland, O., May 19 (AP).—A nine-state alarm was broadcast today by the Civil Aeronautics authority to a long overdue plane carrying two Cleveland business men home from Washington. The Warner-Fairchild four seater monoplane was owned and piloted by Daniel Stone, head of an insurance agency. The passenger was Earl H. Waltz, a business associate.

Several private planes were pressed into the search, most of them fanning out over the Appalachian range in Pennsylvania. All pilots on commercial lines east and southeast of Cleveland were asked to be on the lookout for the missing craft.

Stone and Waltz took off from Washington airport Saturday morning. Some sources said they planned to fly directly here and others reported they intended to stop in Philadelphia.

When your Stomach is

Take Pepto-Bismol when your stomach is sour, sickish or upset by over-indulgence, change of diet, or improper combinations of food or drink . . . when relief is desired from the distress of gas pains, nervous indigestion and simple diarrhea.

Pepto-Bismol is not an antacid and has no laxative action. It helps soothe the irritated intestinal walls as well as the stomach, and is decidedly pleasant to the taste.

In two sizes—at all druggists. Or by the dose at drug store fountains.

BRANSFIELDS END ROUND NO. 80; DIVORCE UPHELD

The Appellate court yesterday rang the bell on the 80th—and, it is believed, final—round of the five and a half year legal fight of the Battliing Bransfields, rival cinder dealers.

Judge John C. Lewe in Superior court granted Mrs. Clara Bransfield of 6601 South Mozart street a divorce Aug. 2 after numerous hearings in which she alleged that her husband, James, was fond of another woman.

Bransfield appealed. The Appellate court upheld Judge Lewe and said Bransfield had "showed a persistent disregard for his marital duty."

EXHIBIT PAINTING OF M'CUTCHEON 'COLORS' CARTOON

A reproduction in oil of John T. McCutcheon's famous cartoon, "The Colors," first printed in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE May 27, 1917, has attracted the attention of hundreds of persons passing the Oak Park chapter offices of the America First committee, 736 Lake street, Oak Park.

The four panels of the painting, each about 15 feet long and 5 feet high, fill the four windows of the chapter headquarters looking on Oak Park avenue. Each panel depicts a line of the verse:

"Gold and green are the fields in peace,
Red are the fields in war,
Black are the fields when the cannons cease,
And white for evermore."

The panel paintings, done by a member of the chapter with Mr. McCutcheon's permission, were placed on display Thursday, according to Mrs. Lillian H. Prugh, head of the chapter. The chapter, organized in February, now has nearly 4,000 members and is growing daily.

LEVER BROTHERS COMPANY

Shower Being Given Thursday for Anita Smith

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE young ladies who go to a party Mrs. DeForest Hulburd and her daughter, Miss Marie Louise Hulburd, will give Thursday afternoon at their home in Lake Forest, will carry attractively wrapped packages, for it is a kitchen shower for bride-to-be Anita Smith. Miss Smith plans to have a red and white kitchen when she and Radford Van Ness start housekeeping in Lake Forest. They are to be married on Saturday, June 28, in Lake Forest, where Miss Smith and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dunlap Smith, reside.

It will be a quiet ceremony at 5 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church with a larger reception following at the Smith home. The Van Ness family is in mourning because of the recent death of Gardiner Van Ness Sr. Gardiner Van Ness Jr. will be his brother's best man and Mrs. Andrew W. Cook [Helen Dick] will be her cousin's matron of honor. The bridesmaids will be Miss Mary Faith Wilson, Miss Margaret Ann Burrows, Miss Anne Stuart, Miss Hulburd, Miss Grace Shumway and the former Mardo Pattou, now Mrs. Joseph C. Belden Jr. The list of ushers is not complete.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith to Give Bridal Dinner at Onwentsia.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith will give the bridal dinner the night before the wedding, at the Onwentsia club. Miss Barbara Buchanan is giving a luncheon for the bridal party on Sunday at the Shoreacres club. Miss Shumway and Miss Stuart have planned to entertain for Miss Smith and Mr. Van Ness on June 12 at the first Thursday night dinner-dance at the Onwentsia club.

A barbecue dinner at the Edward L. Ryersons' cabin on the Des Plaines river will be given for the young friends of Miss Alice Clay Judson and Edward L. Ryerson III. on the eve of their marriage, which will take place on June 21 in Lake Forest. Mrs. Graham Aldis is giving a luncheon on the day of the ceremony, and the Quincy Wrights are giving one two days before, on June 19.

Miss Judson is returning from Bryn Mawr on Sunday. Her only attendant will be her little cousin, Pamela King, who will be flower girl. Morton Ryerson will be his brother's best man. The wedding will be a small afternoon affair in the Lake Forest home of Miss Judson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cay Judson. The Rev. Oliver B. Brackett will read the service. Mr. Ryerson and Miss Judson don't know where they will make their home as he probably will be called for army duty.

Entertaining Is Limited for Miss Mary Gardner.

Because Miss Mary Gardner's fiancé, William Curtis Taylor, is not arriving until a day or so before he and Miss Gardner are to be married on June 7, there are to be few parties for the bride-to-be. The entertaining is limited to the bridal dinner which Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Gardner will give at the Shoreacres club on the eve of the ceremony, and a luncheon at which Stanley Keith will be the host on the 7th.

Mr. Taylor, an ensign in the U. S. navy, expects to be called into service soon, so he and Miss Gardner do not know where they will be at home.

Miss Elizabeth Iglehart of Baltimore, spent the week-end in Lake Forest with her fiancé, Edward Blair, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William McCormick Blair. The purpose of the brief visit was to discuss plans for the marriage, which will take place on June 28 in Baltimore. It will be a church ceremony but other de-

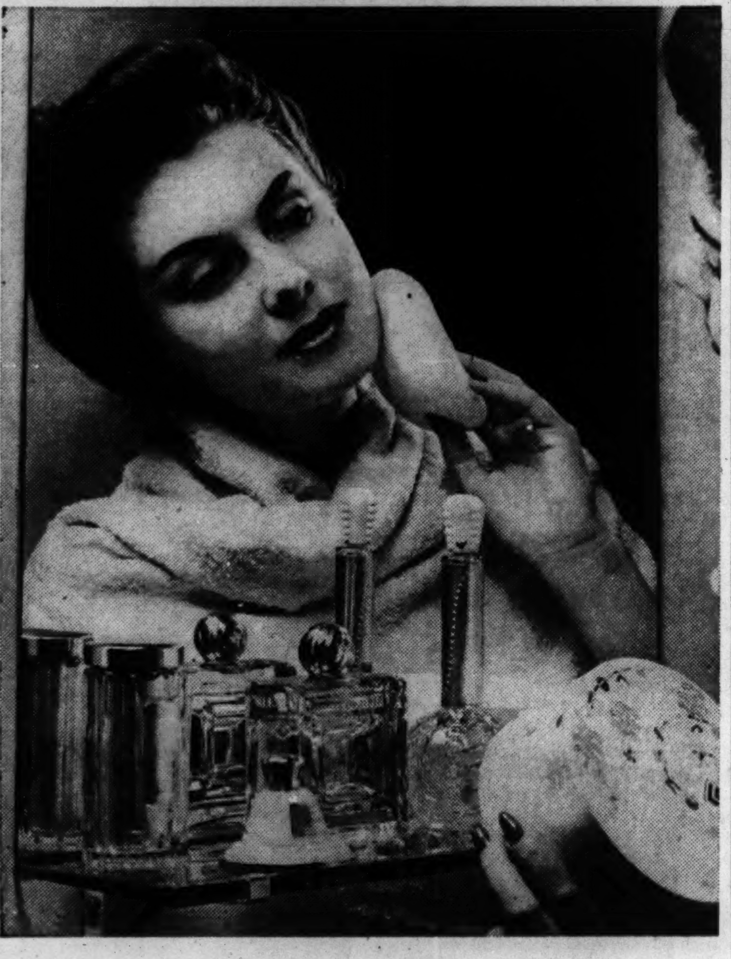
Thru the LOOKING GLASS



[Becker Photo.]

Who's afraid of warm weather? Not the girl who knows how to make wise use of perfumed bath glorifiers such as dusting powder, cologne, and sachet! She won't feel wilted. And, for office hours, there's a new solid cologne that is instantly cooling and fragrant.

Solid cologne is the newest thing under the beauty sun. And a wonderful thing it is to have, especially when the sun shines bright and you are ready to wilt! The merest touch of it to wrists and temples is instantly cooling and enchantingly fragrant.

It's rather a startling idea, this, but a good one. It makes its appearance as a member of a whole ensemble of summer fresheners—toilet water, talc, a gorgeous cream sachet, soap, even bath salts—all keyed to an exciting, summery kind of a perfume. They're all lovely things, beautifully and gayly packaged, but the solid cologne is something of a stand-out.

It's a fat cylinder, a lovely pistachio green in color, and it comes in a glass jar. You must remember to keep the jar tightly capped to prevent evaporation. All you do when you want to use it is draw out the stick of "perfumed ice" and rub it over the skin. We don't see how travelers exsisted without this. It's the perfect thing to toss into a bag or to keep in the car pocket. No spilling, no mess, no waste—and any time you want to freshen up and scent yourself lightly, there it is!

The character of the perfume, it seems to us, lends itself delightfully to all these bath and beauty glorifiers. It's one of those dancing, frolicking scents. You can have a wonderfully refreshing bath with these trimmings—and you'll never be without the solid cologne once you try it. It should certainly be in every business girl's desk for the midday clean-ups.

Looking at Hollywood

By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., May 19.—On Friday of this week there will be a convention of authors at the University of California in Los Angeles under the auspices of the Authors' league and its affiliate, the Screen Writers' guild. All kinds of writing, including, I hope, the construction of a simple English sentence, will be lectured upon by experts, but the trade of manufacturing a movie scenario will be only lightly touched upon. Which is too bad, because I think our local scenarists could use a full length seminar.

Writers are sitting too pretty in Hollywood, and have become spoiled. They have always had an edge on anybody else, because there is a great clannishness among people who put words together for a living. Ever since Samuel Goldwyn started hiring name authors by the ton weight, in the blind belief that a man or woman of letters could do no wrong, the author has had the least trouble out here. Actors have been exposed as petty children, directors as dopes, producers as family ridden sharpshooters, owners as the lugs without taste that they are. But writers have got by as being intellectual sacred cows—which they aren't.

The curse of the double bill would not be half so bad a curse if it weren't for the fact that virtually every movie you see is overwritten. Seeing two movies for the price of one isn't so awful; it is seeing two movies that are twice too long that drives people away from the theaters. In the last three weeks I have seen at least ten feature films, and there isn't one of them that couldn't have been put into five reels or fewer.

In every instance I'd say the fault was the author's. With only five honest reels' worth of material, he stretches what he has to eight or ten. Actually, he stretches it to much more than that, for all shooting scripts are vastly overwritten. With the rare exception of a Gregory La Cava or a William Wellman, all picture makers shoot from 25 to 100 per cent—or even more—too much, and then make a great labor of "editing" in the cutting room.

This kind of editing is sloppy and handicapped. Often a scene that should be dropped out because it is lousy must be kept in because it ties in with something that goes before or comes afterward. The right kind of editing is a great rarity—the kind that an author should do if he had the courage and the ability to say, "Here's the final okayed revised complete substitute shooting script. Let her stand as is. No more, no less. She'll run an hour and 25 minutes—and that's all she's worth. If you need another 15 minutes put in a Mickey Mouse."

In "The Little Foxes" Bette Davis is wearing a gown made from a $6,000 piece of Battenberg lace—and it's seamless, because Designer Orry-Kelly couldn't spoil it by cutting it. . . . Richard Himber, who has been playing at the local Paramount, will

Good Morning!

"You are SO-O-O dominating!" purrs Miss Marlene Dietrich to Mr. Roland Young.

Now wouldn't that be funny?

It is. IF she'd purred it at Spencer Tracy . . . ?

Well, "The Flame of New Orleans" knows it's funny, but M. Giraud, dapper, wealthy, relative hampered little New Orleans banker thinks those are the SWEETEST words and falls all out for the mysterious lady known as Claire.

[You see he thinks Sadie IS a lady.]

Because he thinks so and because ne'er, ne'er would he wed just a dame, it becomes necessary for the "flame" to pose at times as a relative of low repute who "looks just like me" and who, she says in honeyed and genteel tones, has been the bane of her existence—cutting up something awful all of the time and having been especially reprehensible in St. Petersburg, Russia.

You see a gentleman, who had known our heroine in other days, arrives in New Orleans and is heard innocently relating data re his acquaintance with the lady in the 'way back Russian when . . . Fiancé Giraud insists on a duel. Enters the vegetable garden variety of the "Countess" Claire.

Mr. Bruce Cabot comes into the scheme of things as just a sailor man who falls for the countess, is put in his place by her, discovers that Judy O'Grady and the colonel's lady occupy the same hunk of mud and——

"While the wedding bells are ringing. . . !" a very great deal happens, which explains in full the significance of the opening scenes, during which a wedding dress is hauled from the briny deep by solemn fishermen and received sadly and reverently at the dock by gentry who wonder why on earth "the poor girl" did what she did—and on her wedding day, too.

Marlene Dietrich is at her most fascinating in this colorful little comedy adventure drama. She sings just once—which is too much—but her acting is silken and you'll love looking at her.

Roland Young is delightful as M. Giraud, so comical and so serious about the whole thing . . . . Bruce Cabot qualifies all right as the masterful mariner. . . . Theresa Harris, the clever young Negro woman who made such a hit in the Jack Benny picture, has an important rôle in this one which she plays to the nines. . . . You'll approve of the rest of the cast, I think.

The film is charmingly staged and its costumes of an earlier day are effective. Miss Dietrich's gowns are stunning. They do say her wedding dress cost $2,500.

"Flame of New Orleans" has an original and arresting opening and was splendidly directed by that canny Frenchman, Rene Clair. [Remember his "Under the Roofs of Paris" and "The Ghost Goes West"?]

See you soon.

Straight Line Slips Arrive for Warm Days

BY REA SEEGER.

More and more come the queries about the available supplies of straight line or straight cut slips. This doesn't mean that slinky bias cut slips are on the way out of the picture, but it does mean that there are certain kinds of dresses that need the slightly full skirted slips. We've found the newest supply of dark straight line slips for the high fashion dark sheer and less sheer daytime dresses for summer.

They are beautifully fitted and designed models, some severely plain with the vee outline bodice top, others delightfully feminine with airy bands of fine net with a small trim of appliqued floral spray. These are the slips guaranteed not to "ride up," not to twist, assuring a handsome streamline for any of the full skirted dark cool summer charmers.

They are also obtainable in flesh pink and white in both styles, the plain and the more feminine version of silk and lace. Price marks will positively thrill the veteran shopper. With only average care these slips will dutifully last out a busy summer of wear, for they launder with ease.

There are plenty of effective bias cut slips, too, ready for the same sort of wear—under sheer summer clothes. Some new arrivals boast such decorative tops that they are flattering visions under sheer blouses. This decoration is achieved with fine tucking, fagoting and narrow val lace edging, not too frippery but sufficiently ornate so as to double for a lingerie type blouse.

The fine net band edgings fagoted to the shimmering satin or silk are still the favorites for the tailored dresses and suits, and the half-and-half affairs, white bodice top fastened to a dark lower skirt, are the special delight of all suit enthusiasts.

Tribute to Club Pioneers Paid by Federation

BY BETTY BROWNING.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 19 [Special].—Pioneer women, both within and outside the ranks of the General Federation of Women's Clubs were accorded recognition at the opening session of that organization's golden jubilee convention here tonight.

"It thrills me to think what women have accomplished in the last 50 years," said Helen Keller in a brief talk which her companion repeated phrase by phrase so that every one of the 5,000 women present could hear. "What we have already done is a splendid pledge of a greater work yet to be done. May the women of America keep the flame of liberty burning!"

This woman, who overcame both blindness and deafness, was one of 54 distinguished women singled out for their contributions. Miss Ruth Nichols, aviatrix; Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, diplomat; Dr. Mary Woolley, educator; Dr. Georgia Elma Harkness, professor of theology in Garrett Biblical institute, Evanston; Miss Judith Waller, educational broadcasting director, Chicago; Mme. Frances Perkins, secretary of labor; Mrs. Clark Getts, the former Osa Johnson, explorer; Mrs. Morgan Barney, civil engineer and granddaughter of Elizabeth Cady Stanton, pioneer feminist, and Miss Jeanette Rankin, first woman elected to congress, were among others who were present to receive scrolls of recognition.

Within the federation's membership medals were bestowed upon 94 year old Mrs. Emma A. Fox of Detroit, Mich., federation parliamentarian, for longest continuous membership in a federated club, and upon Dr. Clara B. Burdette of Pasadena, Cal., educator and former federation vice president, for their outstanding records of leadership.

Alert, bright-eyed Mrs. Fox, who two years ago brought out a revised edition of her widely used book on parliamentary law, received her award in person. The late Mrs. Rudolph L. Blankenburg of Philadelphia, Pa., was accorded recognition as an outstanding deceased member of the federation.

Tiny Mrs. John T. Mason of Aurora, veteran leader of many civic campaigns, and Illinois' nominee for outstanding club leader of the country, was in the procession of leading women from each state, garbed for the most part in costumes of 50 years ago, which entered the convention hall at the beginning of the session.

Two members of the American Women's club of Shanghai, two from the American Woman's club in Denmark, and one from the Berlin club were among the delegates who brought greetings to the federation from its overseas members.

Front Views and Profiles

By June Provines

DORIS OF THE OZARKS.

Here in the hills, we have seen Doris, our neighbor girl, grow thru those lanky years from 13 to 18. Now she is a lovely young woman, slender and graceful, with fair blonde skin and hair that gleams golden in the sunshine. We have seen her learn how to turn a good looking profile and heard her shyly try to speak precisely without the 'you'ens' and other colloquialisms of the hills.

At the end of school last year, Doris hoped to become, eventually, a member of a famous all-girl orchestra. But I knew that at graduation time this year a big white, cushiony mountain moon would be showering a silver light on every mountain cabin, with flowers blooming everywhere. I knew a square dance would be in the planning stage! And I felt quite certain Doris' boy friend would think of some way of keeping the girl in the hills.

Last Thursday Doris graduated. All day I watched the clouds, for she was to come up at 3 o'clock for color pictures in her graduation outfit. When rain poured about noon, I was sick at heart, remembering the 'crick' between her home and our own. But flooded creeks mean nothing to Doris. Promptly at 3, she and her little half-sister came up the hill. Doris was wearing her dark blue cap, gown, and rose-pink rayon taffeta graduation dress, with heavy brown brogues and short sox soaked to the ankle. In her arms she carried her good shoes and stockings and a great bundle of laundry.

"Mother went to town to work in the factory today, so I had to take care of LuEdith and do Mrs. Bates' washing. She'd let her dish towels get pretty dirty, and I had to rub like everything to get them clean!" she said. After Doris had changed her shoes and stockings, we hurriedly took pictures while the light was good. Then she changed back to the heavy brogues and went on to deliver the washing, stepping briskly along the Ferndale road in the cap, gown and dress she would wear to the graduation exercises that night, carrying the bundle of clean laundry and leading her little sister. After a while, the girls returned.

While the little sister played with the kittens, Doris sat down to tell me of the gifts she had received, a handkerchief from one, some hair bows from another, and other simple little items. Then, in a burst of confidence, she drew from her dress a crumpled handkerchief. A gold ring set with a tiny diamond was tied in one corner. Doris' boy friend had thought of a way to keep Doris in the hills.

He is, my neighbors say, the best catch in the hills, with an 80-acre farm, a horse, four cows, a car of not-too-ancient vintage, and a job in the cheese factory. He is 26, tall, and good looking, with dark curly hair, and is one of the best square-dancers in these parts.

SYNOPSIS.

Carol McFee, whose father is about to lose his ranch to Tate Wallace because of a forged deed, writes Dave Coyle, notorious outlaw, asking for help. Wallace is bringing Sholto to the trial to testify that McFee signed the deed. Will Usher, Dave's enemy, proposes to Dave that they kidnap Sholto and make Wallace pay a ransom. Dave agrees, thinking it will help McFee's case but after he kidnaps Sholto he finds that Usher has double-crossed him and wants the ransom for himself as well as the reward that is offered for Dave's capture. Dave escapes but finds McFee has been arrested for kidnaping and possible murder. Dave discovers that Wallace has blackmailed Sholto because of a murder he knows Sholto commited and is holding Mrs. Sholto as hostage. He sets Mrs. Sholto free, taking her to the McFee ranch, and aids McFee in breaking jail. Wallace refuses to pay ransom for Sholto, knowing if Sholto is killed McFee will hang for his murder and there will be no trial. McFee and Dave rescue Sholto from Usher, bring him back to town to clear McFee, and just as they arrive with him some one shoots and kills Sholto and McFee is arrested for murder. Dave, knowing that the only persons who could have shot Sholto were Sheriff Beal, Deputy Ernie See, Lacey Thornton, McFee's disgruntled ex-partner, or Senator Maitland, McFee's lawyer, as they were the only persons who knew he and McFee were to bring Sholto into town. They were in the McFee home when a letter he had written to Carol telling of the plans disappeared. Dave escaped the sheriff and men who surround him at McFee's ranch by hiding in a water trough and stealing a gun from Ernie's pocket.

INSTALMENT XXXII.

MURDER, INC.

"What did you say?"

"I say you can use me. Remember, I'm the lad that helped Dave Coyle kidnap Sholto in the first place."

"That'll mean you'll get kicked three miles," Wallace said.

"You're still dumb," Will said pleasantly. "I know Dave." He looked up at Wallace, and said, "You want him, don't you?"

"Dave Coyle? Hell, he don't worry me."

"He's goin' to."

They watched each other carefully a few seconds, and then Wallace came over and sat down beside him. Wallace looked obliquely at him, studying him a moment, then said, "How's Dave Coyle goin' to worry me?"

"He's helpin' McFee. I heard him say he was and I saw him do it."

Wallace laughed. "Nobody can help McFee now."

"Except Coyle."

"How?"

"They were both in jail once, weren't they? They both broke out, didn't they? And Sholto, your witness, is dead."

"Sure he is," Wallace agreed. "I don't need him any more. McFee killed him."

"Not McFee."

Wallace looked at him sharply. "Who says he didn't?"

"I do. I didn't see it, but they told me about it in Yellow Jacket."

"Did they tell you either McFee or Coyle or both together didn't do it?"

"They told me they did do it. I say they didn't. And I know."

Wallace smiled thinly, carefully. "Go on."

"McFee didn't kill him, because Sholto was McFee's only alibi—the alibi he needed to go free. Coyle didn't do it because he was Sholto's friend. Sholto let him escape from me."

"Then who did kill Sholto?" Wallace asked.

Will grinned. It was a flashing smile, wise and disarming. "You think I'm going to accuse you of it? Far from it, my friend. You had an alibi. So did your men. I took the trouble to learn that."

"Then who did?"

"The man backing this outfit here."

Wallace kept the faint smile on his face. His eyes gave away nothing, not even his temper. Will didn't even bother to look at him, and for some reason that annoyed Wallace more than the accusation.

"Now that's somethin' to chew on," Wallace said dryly. "It's news to me, but how did you figure it out?"

"It's pretty simple," Will said calmly. He picked up a handful of dust and sifted it thru his fingers watching it idly. He spoke casually. "Start with Miss Carol McFee. She sent me a letter written to Dave Coyle but mailed it in an envelope addressed to me. She verified something that I'd suspected for a long time. That deed you have from McFee is phoney, of course."

"The court ain't said so."

"Exactly. You were out to sink McFee, ruin him, grab his land and his property. The whole swindle depended on Sholto, your witness. But Sholto is kidnaped, believed murdered, and McFee is arrested for that murder. That takes care of McFee nicer than any lawsuit. First it makes it seem that he's killed your witness to protect himself. Second, it hangs him, and ends the lawsuit. If his daughter brings it up again, there's always the memory of her father killing your witness. No jury in the world would find for her, in that case. Am I right so far?"

"It sounds convincin'," Wallace admitted dryly.

"Good. To go on. You have McFee in jail. Presto, he's out! And presto again! he's back with the witness, and is in the clear. Almost! For on the doorstep of the Sheriff's office, Sholto is killed. McFee and Coyle are guilty. And there's your lawsuit won again, hands down."

"Certainly. Especially, since you didn't kill him."

"That's right, I didn't. So where are you?"

"So I'm just where it begins to get interesting," Will murmured. He looked at Wallace now. "You're the man who stands to win $100,000 by the hanging of McFee for the killin' of Sholto. You didn't kill him, and your men didn't but somebody did it for you." He spread his hands. "So I'm forced to believe that you aren't alone in this business."

Wallace laughed softly. "Who's in with me, if that's so?"

Will shrugged. "I don't know. I don't care. All I'm interested in is helping you to keep what you've gained. I'll do it for—say, $25,000."

"Do what?"

"Get rid of Dave Coyle for you," Will said mildly.

Wallace studied his handsome face. He could see the strength in the man, and the cunning. But the gall of him made him mad.

"Hell, I can shoot," Wallace said irritably.

"So can he." Casually first. "But where is he?"

Wallace said wryly, "I dunno. He may be in my barn out there, for all I know."

"Exactly. You can't find him, and you can't kill him if you do."

"But why should I want to?" Wallace asked sharply. "He can't hurt me."

"He can get McFee out of jail. He has once, already. And he can again."

"That makes McFee all the more guilty."

"It also earns you a slug in the back." Will said gently, promptly.

Wallace didn't say anything for a long moment, and then he said, "So you think Coyle will break McFee out, and McFee will kill me?"

"He'll either kill you, or he'll turn up proof of your swindle."

Wallace glanced abruptly at Will, who was smiling faintly, triumphantly. Will got up, then, pulled his gloves tight, and said, "Well, since you're not interested, I'll move on."

"Wait a minute," Wallace said slowly. "Come back here."

Will came back and faced him.

"Just to play safe, suppose I make the deal. You get Coyle out of the way. Can you do it?"

"Don't pay me unless I do," Will said promptly. "I'm a business man, and I believe in cash on delivery."

"Understand," Wallace said flatly, "I haven't admitted anything you say is right. I'm just willin' to put up the money for you to kill an outlaw."

"Naturally, naturally," Will said smoothly, and he grinned his disarming smile. "I think you've needed me for a long time, Wallace."

It was afternoon when Ernie, with five of his posse, returned to the Bib M. The chase after Dave Coyle has been a fruitless one. Just after they had left the valley, riding hell for leather after Coyle, they had flushed a rider and chased him until two hours past dawn, finally cornering him in a series of wind eroded clay dunes southwest of Wagon Mound. The stuff had bogged down his horse, and Ernie's crew had surrounded him and the man had surrendered. He turned out to be some chuck-line rider who had built up a stake in a poker game in Yellow Jacket earlier in the evening. He'd run, he said, because he thought he was being held up.

Ernie had been too disgusted to swear. Coyle, of course, was free as a bird, miles away. But Ernie kept remembering those wet clothes, and the misery of them. Wouldn't Dave want to shuck them and get warm? And what was easier than circling back to the Bib M, getting a change, and going to bed? It was something that Coyle would pull, confident that he wouldn't be suspected. This thought kept nagging Ernie until he named off five men to ride back with him to the Bib M and sent the others home.

Looking at Hollywood

make a short with his band at Warners'. . . . Add things not to worry about: Alexander Korda is looking for the football that was used in the 1887 Yale-Harvard game for a scene in "Illusions." . . . Paramount intends to make a singer out of Martha O'Driscoll. . . . Mickey Rooney may be a pretty good golfer, but you never can tell when he'll up and quit in the middle of the course. . . . Columbia is considering a production of "The American Way," flag-waving extravaganza by Kaufman and Hart, in which the Fredric Marches starred on Broadway. Elisabeth Bergner would have the lead in the film version. . . . Veronica Lake is wearing her hair in that same one-eyed fashion in her second picture, "Sullivan's Travels." Off screen she wears it much more attractively—in a tight knot atop her head. . . . Ginger Rogers, George Murphy and cast and crew of "Tom, Dick and Harry" gave Director Garson Kanin a stage party the night before final shots were made. Highlight was a Phil Silver's vaudeville routine in which Kanin took part. Gar is due in the army in two or three weeks.

Add how to become an actor: When Billy Grady, MGM talent scout, was visiting New York an agent came to him and asked a personal favor. "A fella has been pestering the life out of me to get him an audition. He thinks he can be an actor and he's a pain in the neck. Be a good guy, will you, and see him for a minute and get him off my hands?" So the amiable Billy accommodated with an appointment.

In walked one Douglas Lanny, six feet five, a photographer's model. "Can you do anything?" asked Grady. "Not a damn thing," grinned Lanny. "Fine," said Grady. "You leave for Hollywood tomorrow." Billy had decided that Lanny had the amiable quality of Gable and a voice like Franchot Tone's—which is as good a voice as you can find hereabout. And, he discovered later out here, Lanny has a way of underplaying like Spencer Tracy's.

Most players past the novice stage are able to judge when to continue leading one suit and when to shift to another suit. But when it comes to selecting the precise card to be played, their ideas are unfortunately sometimes foggy. Witness West's superficial analysis in today's hand.

West, dealer.
East-West vulnerable.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 club	Double	4 clubs	4 spades
Pass	Pass	Pass

West correctly read his partner's preëmptive club bid as proof of weakness outside of the club suit itself and, since he could not gauge his losing tricks at a five club contract, decided not to battle the nonvulnerable opponents. East had the same problem when four spades came around to him. He was afraid a five club bid might result in a two trick, 500 point penalty, and hence desisted. Considering that the four spade contract should have been set, the decision was wise, since it would have required double-dummy play [a backward heart finesse] to fulfill five clubs.

West opened the club king and, to his horror, saw the declarer ruff. A low spade was led to the ace and a spade returned. East showing out, declarer saw he could not avoid losing to the queen, so he went up with the king and played a third round. West, on lead with the queen, had no problem of what suit to lead. Obviously, a club continuation was out of the question, since declarer would ruff and rattle off the solid diamond suit. On the theory [as he explained later] that the one chance to defeat four spades was to find East with both the king and ten of hearts, West cashed the heart ace and then sent the jack thru dummy's queen. East had the king but, alas, lacked the ten spot.

West's "theory" had been only half correct. Unless East had the heart king all was lost, of course. But why did he need the ten? West himself had a combination that in this case was fully the equivalent of the A-J-10. Since West realized that there was no hope unless East held the heart king, he also should have realized that his proper play was not the ace of hearts but the jack. This play would be declarer's undoing. If he covered with dummy's queen, East would win and return a heart thru the ten to West's A-9 tenace; if he did not cover, the defenders would win three heart tricks by straight leads. Surely, a very simple problem of defense!

Universal day—Keep your mind on practical ways and means but don't worry.

Birth years—Those born in 1881, 1890, 1899, 1908, 1917, and 1926 have the expansive and expressive number nine to color their years beyond 55. They should cultivate any artistic gift they have so that they can give generously of themselves and their gift during this period for they will be asked to give all they have either in knowledge, talent, or money. Some will have accumulated worldly goods which they can redistribute to the world, and some will have so much love they can share that they will help the world with their broad humanitarian deeds, while others will give graciously and generously of their music perhaps or some other talent. This is the number of brotherly love and of international understanding.

Tuesday, May 20.

Here is an excellent day for putting plans, theories, and ideas to the test of action. But this is a week in which temptation is to combine action with false opinion, without sufficient discrimination. So let us go just a little slow.

Your Year Ahead.

Your year ahead is critical, if born on this date. Highly important decisions to be made; think detachedly, plan wisely, don't change in a hurry. Clean up past. Financial improvement possible. Danger: Feb. 19 to March 7.

Tomorrow.

Think as far ahead as you can; real opportunity for planning.

Mrs. Collier to Head Voters of Lake Shore

The Lake Shore League of Women Voters held its final luncheon meeting of the season yesterday at the Arts club. But if the members follow the advice of the guest speaker, Mrs. George Gellhorn of St. Louis, they will work harder than ever during the next few months to win "the Battle of Production." The national league has proclaimed the major work that women voters should do in the defense program.

Mrs. Gellhorn also stressed the fact that the work of learning to be a good American citizen never is finished, which is the main reason the league has flourished for 21 years. It was started in Chicago by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt as a citizenship school. Mrs. Gellhorn, one of the first members, is on the national board of directors.

Mrs. John Collier was elected president of the league. The other officers are: First vice president, Mrs. Carroll H. Sudler; second vice president, Mrs. C. E. Englund; third vice president, Mrs. A. Werner Lawson; treasurer, Mrs. Louis Uhlmann; secretary, Mrs. Arthur Bissell.

Mrs. Collier went directly from the meeting to take the train for her summer home at Fairfield, Conn., where she will remain until September.

WEDDINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Layer of Winnetka announce the marriage of their daughter, Margaret, to Lieut. Elliott Wilford Sproul, son of Mrs. Wilford Robert Sproul of Longwood drive. The ceremony took place on Friday in the Howes Memorial chapel, with John Sproul attending his brother as best man. A reception at the Georgian hotel, Evanston, followed. Lieut. Sproul and his bride will reside temporarily at Camp Forrest, Tenn., where he is stationed.

Miss Constance Klauber, daughter of Mrs. Charles Klauber of East 55th street, and James Charles Hirsch will be married at 6 o'clock this afternoon at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Cheri S. Freund. Mr. Hirsch is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Hirsch of Highland Park.

Kopp Povides an Evening of Pleasing Music

BY CECIL SMITH.

The weekly Kimball hall concerts of the Illinois Symphonic ensemble, conducted by Leo Kopp, are providing a great deal of zest in an otherwise placid season of the year. Last evening's large audience showed that the musical public has learned about these agreeable occasions, and is of a mind to give its hearty support.

The concert was skillfully arranged, presenting a diversity of 18th, 19th, and 20th century works, all worth hearing, and reaching a final climax with Manuel de Falla's "El Amor Brujo," one of the most masterly and enduringly beautiful orchestral works written within our lifetime. Even if his conducting were not as admirable as it is, Mr. Kopp would deserve our appreciation for the resourceful and imaginative planning of his programs.

Scarcely any one in the audience, I am sure, had ever heard Mr. Kopp's two 18th century novelties. Handel's overture to Smollett's play "Alceste" is an agreeable, if hardly epoch making, composition in the manner of the composer's many agreeable, if hardly epoch making, operatic overtures.

The violin concerto by Pietro Castrucci, the leader of Handel's orchestra, leaned heavily upon the style of its composer, but had a more modern sound, inasmuch as Alfred Muffat has transcribed the original concerto grosso into a violin concerto in which the solo instrument plays a more prominent and demonstrative part. Ruth Ray played the solo part earnestly and energetically. Her tone would be greatly helped by a warmer vibrato. Incidentally, nothing in the music quite explained why the concerto is nicknamed "The Girdle."

Leo Sowerby's Sinfonietta for string orchestra, which had previously been presented here by Daniel Saidenberg and Nicolai Malko, still seems one of the composer's strongest instrumental works. Written before an excessive preoccupation with English music led Mr. Sowerby into too imitative a style, the Sinfonietta retains real contrapuntal strength in spite of its tendency to become rhapsodic.

Thruout the evening the orchestra played well, tho not brilliantly. Mr. Kopp is completely musicianly, and all that remains in the way of a distinguished success for him is a certain lack of inner fire, and a hesitancy to demand the utmost of his players.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Things happened fast and tragically for the gasping Brooklyn Dodgers in Wrigley field yesterday as the Cubs jolted their pennant hopes for the second successive day—this time by a score of 14 to 1. Manager Leo Durocher formally protested yesterday's and Sunday's Cub victories, but more of that later.

Claude Passeau had more fun than anybody else knocking the Dodgers out of the league lead. Claude, in accomplishing his third victory, contributed joyously to his own success by busting a homer with the bases full in the second inning—an inning in which the Cubs made nine runs, tops for the majors this season. Bill Nicholson polished off the big interlude with a two run homer, his seventh of the year.

Passeau Pitches, Too.

Passeau was not content to rest on his slugging laurels, tho exhuberant over making the club organized by Bill Lee and Vern Olsen after their home run exploits in Philadelphia recently. He held the Dodgers to four hits, three scattered singles and a homer by Babe Phelps. Claude didn't let a Dodger visit first base until two were out in the fifth inning when Dolph Camilli singled. The Cubs were leading 12 to 0 at the time.

Just before Camilli became the Dodgers' first base runner, Manager Durocher, assisted by Coach Charlie Dressen, reeled up to Umpire Lee Ballanfant. Leo seemed to be bleeding terribly, but this proved only a mirage. He was there to report a protest, not a gangster attack.

Ah! A Jack Dalton, eh?

Durocher, who rarely is out of breath, had to summon all his strength to address Ballanfant.

"I want this berl game thrun out and yesterday's, too," cried Leo, lapsing into the Brooklynese.

"On account of which?" inquired Ballanfant.

"On account the Cubs are over the player limit and I can prove it," said Leo. He had himself better in hand now, and spoke in his native New England Yankee, which is more refined.

Announcer Pat Piper, native of Hamburg, Germany, then got into the picture. Ballanfant told him to give the crowd of 8,120 the news of the protest. Pat told everybody that Leo had protested the two games

Golf School Students Get Into the Swing of It Tonight

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The ninth annual free golf school conducted by The Tribune tonight enters the second semester of its curriculum with the third lesson of this largest and oldest plan of group instruction in any sport on the four courses of the Chicago park district.

There has been mention of showers for this evening, but if all students involved in the school will spend today hammering wood, Willoughby W. Weathervane, the school's perennial meteorologist, has indicated that between the hours of 7 and 8:30 p. m. the outlook is for a 90 minute absence of any precipitation. Willoughby, by the way, was a steadfast friend last week, when a total of 41,000 lessons were given by the members of the Illinois section of the Professional Golfers' Association of America.

You Still Can Join School.

A majority of educational institutions insist upon full time attendance in order to gain credits. This is not true of The Tribune school, which boasts one of the most elastic methods of teaching in the history of fundamental education.

Let's say you missed the first two lessons of the school last week. The first was devoted to the grip and the second to the stance. This week's two lessons, including tonight's and the final instruction on Thursday evening, will stress all factors of the swing. Your absence from those first two lessons does not bar you from attending this week's final pair.

The PGA members who are conducting the classes and donating their professorial services have invited all golf fans who missed the first two lessons to come out tonight and Thursday. They have promised to review the grip and the stance before going into the swing.

Record Opening Night Throng.

Last week's opening was one of the happiest in the history of the school from a weather standpoint. At the same stage last year, the enrollment had been trimmed to 22,500 men, women, and children, no thanks to a double postponement of the first lesson. Last Tuesday night a record opening night throng of more than 20,000 took advantage of the ideal weather conditions to attend the school. That figure was bettered by more than 1,000 in Thursday's second class.

If you have an interest in golf and

Retains Title Before 7,000 in Milwaukee.

BY FRANK MASTRO.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., May 19.—Petey Scalzo, making his first 1941 defense of his featherweight championship, won a 15 round decision over Phil Zwick, 35 year old challenger from Kaukauna, Wis., in the Auditorium tonight. Altho Scalzo appeared to have a clear margin, the crowd booed the verdict chiefly because Zwick dealt his stocky opponent a beating in the last round, flooring him for a four count.

After the battle Al Fain, Zwick's manager, asked the Wisconsin athletic commission for a reversal of the decision. Chairman Ray Sheehy examined Referee Barney Ross' card which gave Scalzo a 76 to 74 margin, then rejected the request.

A capacity crowd of 7,000 paid gross receipts exceeding $14,000, the largest gate in Milwaukee in more than seven years. Net receipts were $13,000. Scalzo collected 50 per cent and Zwick shared profits, approximating $5,000, with the sponsors.

Zwick scored repeatedly in the first and second rounds, counting with several resounding rights to the head in the first. Scalzo found the range with two lefts to the face in the third. Altho Pete appeared to have an edge in this round, Referee Ross eliminated all doubt by taking the round away from Zwick for hitting after the bell.

Scalzo Opens Up.

Scalzo had the advantage in the fourth and fifth. After catching a terrific right to the jaw in the sixth Zwick scored with a barrage of blows which gave him a draw for the round. Zwick used a right to the body with good effect in the seventh. Then they boxed on even terms in the eighth and ninth rounds.

A right closed Zwick's eye in the 10th and another right opened a cut under the eye in the 11th. Altho Zwick was barely able to keep his feet in the 12th, he came out for the 13th with renewed vigor, so much so that he gave back almost as much as he received.

Scalzo increased his advantage in the 14th, but in the final round he was unable to stop the fury of Zwick's right hand offensive to the head and body. One of these assaults drove Scalzo thru the ropes for a four count.

Pierce, Canadeo Win.

Scalzo weighed 125 pounds and Zwick 124½. It was the first time the challenger had made the featherweight limit in more than three years.

ROBINSON KNOCKS OUT CASTIGLIONE IN FIRST ROUND

Philadelphia, May 19 (AP).—Ray [Sugar] Robinson, 135½, New York, knocked out Nick Castiglione, 137, Chicago, in 1:21 of the first round before 5,000 in the arena tonight. It was Robinson's sixth consecutive knockout in a Philadelphia ring. He floored Castiglione three times before putting over the finishing punches, a right to the body and left to the jaw.

POTRANCO WINS IN INAUGURAL AT LINCOLN FIELDS

Beats Equistar in Late Rush Before 8,000.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Potranco, hero of many a close finish on Chicago tracks in the last couple of years, put the punch into the six furlong Outer Drive purse which headed the opening day program at Lincoln Fields yesterday. While many in the crowd of 8,000 were calling on him to get going this 2 to 1 favorite moved up stoutly in midstretch. Jockey Arthur Craig drove him between Equistar and Frank's Boy in the last furlong and landed him on the finish line the winner by two and a half lengths.

Equistar, which had taken command on the far turn, held on to beat Vino Puro by three quarters of a length for second place. The 3 to 1 second choice, Flying Lill, was the outstanding failure of the race. After getting away to a slow start, she never was able to reach a contending position and wound up in seventh place. The winner returned $6.40, $3.40 and $2.60 across the board.

Outsider Wins First Race.

The meeting began with the defeat of an odds on favorite, the Woolford farm's juvenile filly, Famed. This youngster, who had been in the money in three of the four previous starts of her career, closed at 4 to 5 but could do no better than take third place behind the outsider, James Quest, which returned $31.60, $12.20, and $4.20 across the board. The winner had scored once previously against weak opposition at Sportsman's Park.

In his effort yesterday, James Quest moved up to the leaders approaching the stretch, took the lead after heading for home and won easily, two and a half lengths in advance of the second choice, Golden Goose. Famed had little to offer in the way of excuses beyond the fact that she was forced to race fairly wide most of the way in this five furlong sprint.

Two more favorites—Gold Mesh and Amnesty—failed in the second and third races. The winners—Hasty Star at 10 to 1 and Blacky Bee at 9 to 2—paid off at $91.60 to those who had hooked them up in the daily double.

Amnesty Finishes Sixth.

Hasty Star took command in the back stretch of this six furlong jaunt and went on to win by three-quarters of a length, tho Gold Mesh was gaining on her steadily in the closing stages. Blacky Bee's victory was easier and the favorite Amnesty was a more thoro flop than was Gold Mesh. Blacky Bee got home three lengths ahead of Adoress, while Amnesty was coming in seventh, never having been able to reach contention.

The favorites finally got going in the fourth and then two in a row went over—Appointee at 6 to 5 and Opera Star at 9 to 5. The former had two lengths to spare over the second choice, Light As Air, but Opera Star had to hustle to get up and beat the 9 to 1 shot, Royal Blue, by a head, in the fifth race.

Jockeys Bill Thompson, R. L. Hightshoe and Ben Cruickshank were taken to St. James hospital in Chicago Heights for treatment after a spill in the eighth race. The first two suffered collar bone injuries and Cruickshank was bruised.

Taft Wright.

Washington, D. C., May 19.—Joe Kuhel and Taft Wright, both graduates of the Senators, collaborated this afternoon in a little playlet entitled Revenge. They cuffed the ball in most delightful style against their former mates and thus made themselves the big shots in an 8 to 2 White Sox triumph which boosted Jimmy Dykes' rough housing second place troupe to within three games of the pacemaking Indians.

Eddie Smith, the little round lefthander, tho not at his best, was good enough to take care of himself both when his lead was slim and when it was blown up to impressive proportions by a big seventh inning. Eddie had trouble on his hands for six innings, but yielded only one run despite eight hits and some passes. Thereafter he could afford to coast but granted only two more safeties and another run to clinch his season's fourth victory against one defeat. It was the third straight victory for the Sox.

Kennedy Fades in Seventh.

To make their day successful the Sox stepped all over Vernon Kennedy, one of their alumni, who was making his first start for the Senators. The one time no-hit hero felt the sting of Kuhel's and Wright's bats in the first inning. They didn't have a hand in a fourth inning run, but in the seventh, when four runs sent Kennedy away, Kuhel singled again to drive in a pal. Wright then tripled and drove two more across.

The beauty of the Sox assault on Kennedy and his successor, Walter Masterson, was that virtually nothing went to waste. The Chicagoans made only three hits off Kennedy in six innings, but three runs resulted. They came up with three more hits, one of them off Masterson, in the decisive seventh, and scored four runs. A pair of hits in the eighth accounted for the eighth run.

Kuhel Goes Into Action.

Luke Appling hit in hard luck in the first inning else Kennedy's sufferings might have been far more painful. Bill Knickerbocker opened with a walk and Appling whacked one down the first base line. But George Archie lunged over, stabbed the ball with one hand and tossed to Kennedy to get Luke by an eyelash. Kuhel singled to drive Knickerbocker home, stole second and rode in on Wright's single.

Kennedy's wildness made it unnecessary for the Sox to expend much energy to make it 3 to 0 in the fourth. Lodigiani walked and was bunted to second by Kreevich. Myril Hoag's single was knocked down by Cecil Travis, the stop making it advisable for Lodigiani to hold third. He scored a moment later on Mike Tresh's force of Hoag. This run was returned to the Senators in the fifth when Kennedy singled and scored on hits by Archie and Buddy Lewis.

Wright Slams a Long One.

The Senators' ninth inning run came on Evans' triple and a pinch single by John Welaj.

Bob Meyers of Roosevelt hurled a no-hit, seven inning game, regulation for the City High School league, to beat Taft yesterday, 2 to 0, at Winnemac park. He struck out seven and issued no bases on balls. It was Roosevelt's third victory in four starts.

In the same section, Lane Tech stretched its lead by winning from Senn, 6 to 5, at Revere park, on a last inning rally. It was the tenth in a row for Lane which shares with Harrison, west section leaders, the distinction of being the only undefeated or untied teams in the circuit. Harrison won its eighth from Englewood, 9 to 2, at Hamilton park.

In the Suburban league Bob Clark of New Trier held Waukegan to one hit on the New Trier diamond, and then smashed a home run in the last of the seventh with a man aboard, to win the decision, 2 to 0. He also struck out fourteen.

HOSTAK STARTS DRILLS AT CYO FOR ZALE BATTLE

Champion Preparing for Stadium Bout, Too.

Al Hostak, former middleweight champion, opened training in CYO center, 31 East Congress street, yesterday afternoon for his 15 round championship bout with Champion Tony Zale. The match, to be held in Chicago Stadium May 28, will be their third. After losing to Zale in 10 rounds in an overweight battle in the Stadium on Jan. 29, 1940, Hostak lost his title to the Gary slugger in a rematch on a 13 round technical knockout in Seattle.

Al Changes Trainers.

Hostak will repeat his routine of light exercises in the CYO gymnasium this afternoon. He is to start boxing drills tomorrow. Al arrived yesterday morning with Manager Eddie Marino, Adviser Nate Druxman, and Hank Hostak, a brother. In two previous appearances in this city, the Seattle boxer was trained by Sam Buxbaum of Chicago, but Buxbaum has been replaced by Jack Hartford, boxing coach at Morgan Park Military academy.

After taking a layoff Sunday, Zale resumed workouts in Trafton's gymnasium yesterday. Solly Krieger, another erstwhile middleweight titleholder, also worked out in Trafton's place yesterday. Krieger, now fighting as a light heavyweight, is paired with Booker Beckwith in a 10 round semi-windup.

Haley on Stadium Card.

Jack Haley, 1941 Chicago Golden Gloves featherweight champion, last night accepted a four round opener on the Zale-Hostak card against Vito Rizzo. Jack, who knocked out Billy Ferris in one round in Independence, Mo., in his debut in the money ranks last Wednesday, will make his second appearance in a six round event against Benny Sherrod in Omaha tomorrow.

Poet's Warning.

Whose lines of beauty fill the heart with joy;
To them love was supreme eternally—
To them love was a gift without alloy,
And love, as they have set it down for me,
Was never won by maiden dumb and coy.

No poet ever lived whose heart was stone,
For every bard sought to immortalize
The breathless rapture known to love alone
That comes to life in two young lovers' eyes,
Whose eloquence has language of its own,
So, honey, take this warning from a poet—
When you kiss me I want the world to know it!

—Anne C. Korpics.

GORSICA PITCHES TIGERS TO FIFTH STRAIGHT, 4 TO 2

Red Sox Collect Only Four Hits Off Johnny.

Boston, Mass., May 19 (AP).—Johnny Gorsica pitched the Boston Red Sox into submission today, limiting them to four hits while the Detroit Tigers went on to win their fifth straight victory, 4 to 2. Gorsica retired Boston in order until the fifth, which Jimmy Foxx opened with a single. Joe Cronin ended that threat, however, by tapping into a double play. Cronin collected a double and Ted Williams hit his fifth homer of the season with Lou Finney, who had singled, on base in the seventh. Charlie Gehringer hit a home run in the fifth inning. Score:

REDS, 7; BRAVES, 3.

Cincinnati, O., May 19 (AP).—The Cincinnati Reds cut loose with a 14 hit attack against Boston today and with a great show of defensive play, won 7 to 3, for their second straight victory.

Big Ernie Lombardi, Rookie Chuck Aleno and Ernie Koy, recent $35,000 acquisition from St. Louis, sparked the Reds, Lombardi cutting down four runners at second, three as they attempted to steal and the fourth as he wandered off base. Carvel Rowell, whose ninth inning homer started Johnny Vander Meer to the showers—but only as insurance—was cut down twice.

Until the fifth, Manuel Salvo held the champions to three hits. Vander Meer walked eight but fanned six in gaining his third victory of the year.

Trotter, Dubs Win Bouts in Marigold Ring

Boxers triumphed over sluggers in the two main bouts in Marigold Gardens last night before 1,694 fans, who paid $2,022.

Johnny Trotter of Chicago spotted Eddie Camp, also of Chicago, 11½ pounds and won a close decision in eight rounds, altho there were a few boos when the verdict was announced. Trotter built up his margin with a smart left hand, but ran into trouble in the third when a right by Camp staggered him. Trotter weighed 168 pounds, Camp 179½.

Harvey Dubs, Windsor, Ont., welterweight, won a clear cut decision over Tony Petroskey of Muskegon in the other eight-round match. Dubs kept pegging his left at Petroskey, who never had a chance to get set for his heavy blows. It was Petroskey's first fight in two years. Other results:

Ernie Derho of Minneapolis beat Tito Taylor of Chicago, welterweights [6].
Andy Canal of Chicago beat George De Gido of Minneapolis, featherweights [4].

'Twas Jolly, but Serious.

This didn't quite clear up things for the customers, but everybody was in a swell mood and thought Pat, who is quite a wag in his way, was putting over a gag.

The protest, however, was quite serious, from the standpoint of Durocher's whimper. He was talking about Outfielder Charley Gilbert, a Dodger until the Herman deal on May 6, who is in a hospital in Philadelphia. There was the guy who had wrecked the Dodgers two days running—Charley Gilbert hiding there in Philadelphia.

Gilbert has not reported to the Cubs, tho Cub property. He has been in Philadelphia since he got there from Montreal after recurrence of an ankle injury a week ago Sunday. On the intricacies of this status baseball officials must determine whether or not Gilbert helped Passeau knock a homer with the bases full, etc.

"We are thoroly familiar with the National league rules," General Manager Jim Gallagher said. "We have not been notified that Gilbert has left Montreal and do not know what he is doing in Philadelphia. Whatever he is doing is his own business. All we know is that he is not yet a Cub."

Back to the Ball Game.

And now back to the game: Hugh Casey, one of the Dodgers' aces, was the losing pitcher, charged with six of the nine runs made in the second inning, including Passeau's homer. Hugh previously had won five straight without a loss. He hadn't pitched a home run ball this season prior to the one Passeau banged into the left field stands. It was even more shocking than the way the Cubs wrecked Whit Wyatt's seven game winning streak Sunday.

Maybe you'd like to read the details of the big inning. Well, Bill Nicholson, first up, walked and took second on a wild pitch. Then Lou Novikoff walked. Clyde McCullough beat out a bunt, loading the bases, after which Lou Stringer walked on five pitches forcing in Nicholson. Cookie Lavagetto was charged with an error when he failed to come up with Bob Sturgeon's difficult bouncer. Novikoff scored and the bases remained loaded. It was at this juncture that Passeau lined the ball over the ivy on the left field wall, scoring McCullough, Stringer, and Sturgeon.

Now Brown, Then Hamlin.

Luke Hamlin was loaded with the pitching assignment at the start of the third. After two were out, Cavarretta and Dallessandro singled, and Nicholson doubled to score Cavarretta. It was Bill's 27th run batted in for the season. A single by Stringer, a double by Sturgeon, and a single by Hack gave the Cubs two more runs off Hamlin in the fourth.

In the sixth, Hamlin walked McCullough, and Stringer knocked his second single. The runners advanced on a balk and paused while Sturgeon popped to Billy Herman. Then McCullough scored when Peewee Reese's throw was too late at the plate on a fielder's choice. Hack flied to Dixie Walker, but Cavarretta's second double and third hit scored Stringer with the last run of the riotous afternoon.

its first principles [and without these no sound game ever existed] bring a club tonight and Thursday to the park course most convenient to you. All classes will begin promptly at 7 p. m. The four courses are Diversey, located in Lincoln park at the foot of Diversey boulevard and Lake Michigan; Marquette, Marquette road and Kedzie avenue; Columbus, Jackson boulevard and Central avenue, and Jackson, 63d street and Stony Island avenue. If you don't own a club, borrow one [preferably a mashie] and be there at 7 p. m. or before. There is no charge for any of the lessons.

Choose Most Apt Pupils Thursday.

Following Thursday night's closing class, the PGA members at each course will choose the most apt eight pupils—two men, two women, two boys, and two girls—for the final graduating exercises, which will be held Sunday afternoon at Jackson park. This will bring a final class of 32 to Jackson park. There a special jury of PGA members will choose the man, woman, boy, and girl whose swings prove that they have made the most progress in the school. Each of these will be given a golf bag, a set of clubs, and tickets to the Chicago and Tam o' Shanter Open tournaments. The other 28 finalists will be presented with one dozen golf balls and a ticket good for the final day of the Chicago and Tam o' Shanter Opens.

Lee Will Close Brooklyn Series for Cubs Today

Bill Lee is ready to lead the Cubs to a sweep of the Dodger series in Wrigley field this afternoon. He will be opposed by the third ex-Chicago player to start in the series—Kirby Higbe, former Cub.

The Cubs' heroics Sunday and yesterday precipitated a boom in requests for ladies' day tickets to Friday's game. It was announced, however, that plenty of the free credentials are available.

LUND PROPOSES PLANS TO BOOST SALES TAX YIELD

Urges Spending 1 Million More for Collections.

The yield of the Illinois retailers' occupational [sales] tax can be increased considerably by greater efficiency in collections, according to a report made to Gov. Dwight H. Green yesterday by Arnold L. Lund, former Republican state representative from Riverside.

Lund recommended that the state expend 1 million dollars more a year to employ 300 additional auditors and field workers to make collections more efficient. He recommended further: Creation of a separate department for administering the sales tax act and establishment of sales tax districts, issuance of prepaid sales tax coupons or cards to retailers for redemption by the state upon collection of the tax, and more frequent audits by sales tax officials.

Systems in 22 States Studied.

Lund's recommendations were made after a study of sales tax methods in 22 other states. His report gave particular attention to the sales tax in California. The rate there is the same as in Illinois, 3 per cent. But California has 500 sales tax auditors, according to Lund.

"California," Lund said, "has laid great stress upon collections, while Illinois has not. The result has been, despite the fact that California possesses about 1 million fewer people than Illinois and exempts food under the act, that in 1940 it received $98,063,000, compared with $90,818,000 in Illinois.

"By spending approximately 1 million dollars more for the operation of its act in 1940, California enjoyed a yield per capita of $14.27, compared with $11.53 in Illinois. The California state board of equalization estimates that were the same commodities included as in Illinois, such as food, the California rate per capita would be $18.34.

Tells What Change Would Do.

"Were Illinois to reach this rate of efficiency, the income annually, even on a 2 per cent tax collection basis and including the exemption of food, would be approximately 88 million dollars."

Lund said the prepaid tax coupon and card system, used in Ohio, works for more efficient collection because half the card or coupon is given the consumer. Thus each consumer cooperates in seeing that the tax law is obeyed.

CONGRESS TO GET BILL LAUNCHING SEAWAY PROJECT

Washington, D. C., May 19 (AP).—The administration moved today for prompt development of the controversial St. Lawrence seaway as a defense and British aid project.

Representative Joseph J. Mansfield [D., Tex.], chairman of the house rivers and harbors committee, said he will introduce legislation "possibly within a week" authorizing the 277 million dollar project—dams to develop 2,200,000 horsepower of hydro-electric energy and a 27 foot channel from the Great Lakes to the St. Lawrence river to enable shipyards on the lakes to build ocean going vessels.

The measure, upon enactment, would constitute congressional approval of the March 19 agreement between the United States and Canada. Unlike a treaty proposing a similar project which failed to receive the necessary two-thirds vote for senate ratification in 1934, the agreement needs only the concurrence of a simple majority in both houses.

TRIPLETS, BORN TO WIFE, 22, PUT IN INCUBATORS

Triplet boys born yesterday to Mrs. Laura Valdez, 22 years old, in her home at 1809 13th street are doing well in incubators in county hospital. The first of the three was born at 5:20 a. m. Dr. Marjorie Everett of the Chicago Maternity center arrived in time to help deliver the other two within the next 20 minutes.

"We expected twins," said the father, Samuel, 23, "but not three! We wanted a girl because we already have one son, Samuel, 2½, but we're not disappointed. My wife's feeling fine and she's laughing about it, but I'm beginning to worry about money. I work in a candy factory and make only enough for three of us. Now there's six."

Ronald, the first triplet, weighed 3 pounds 11½ ounces; Ralph weighed 3 pounds 14½ ounces, and Rocco weighed 3 pounds 11¾ ounces. Dr. Max Kaplan, who is in charge of the County hospital children's ward, said the three would be kept in incubators at least a week.

Will of Robert V. Taft Disposes of $100,000 Estate

The will of Robert V. Taft, who was vice president of the Dr. Pierre Chemical company, 162 North Franklin street, was filed for probate yesterday in the Lake county courthouse in Waukegan. It disposed of an estate estimated at $100,000. Mr. Taft, whose home was at 215 2d avenue, Libertyville, died April 29 in Miami, Fla. Probate Judge Martin C. Decker set June 9 for the hearing. The widow, Mrs. Martha Taft, is executrix and residuary legatee after numerous bequests to relatives. The Northern Trust company was named executor.

STATE DOCTORS MEET TODAY IN PATRIOTIC MOOD

Illinois physicians have demonstrated their patriotism by contributing services worth $1,000,000 during the first six months of selective service, Dr. Harold M. Camp of Monmouth, secretary of the Illinois State Medical society, estimated yesterday. The society is opening its 101st annual meeting today in the Palmer House.

Dr. Camp is in charge of recommending physicians for draft board work in the state. In his annual report he said 1,200 doctors are working without pay as examiners for the 361 local draft boards and 38 medical advisory boards. He said $833 is a fair average of what each would have earned in private practice in the time devoted to draft activities.

The Illinois Public Health association, meeting last night in the La Salle, heard Dr. H. A. Holle, district consultant of the United States Public Health service, warn against epidemics in mushrooming armament industry towns. Earlier, at a round table discussion of the typhoid epidemic at Manteno State hospital, a survey of all state institutions to isolate "carriers" was urged.

Find Crater 47 Years After Meteor Flashed

Denver, Colo., May 19 (AP).—Discovery of a large crater near the base of Southern Colorado's Sangre de Cristo mountains has revived memories of a meteor which flashed across the sky 47 years ago. Dr. H. H. Mininger, Denver meteorologist, said after an airplane trip over the crater—300 feet wide and 30 feet deep—that it probably was gouged out by a meteorite. He plans a return trip with instruments for a scientific investigation.

BIG 5 RAILWAY UNIONS REQUEST 30% PAY RAISE

Operators Say They Cannot Meet It.

A 30 per cent wage increase was asked yesterday by representatives of the five big railroad brotherhoods. Railroad spokesmen said it would be impossible to grant the increase, which would boost railroad pay rolls at least 168 million dollars a year.

Representatives of the operating unions said the roads will receive formal notice of the demand June 10, in accordance with provisions of the railway labor act. The brotherhoods represent 350,000 trainmen.

Four Reasons Listed.

Heads of the Big Five, meeting in the Morrison hotel, issued a statement setting forth the following reasons for the increase:

1. Wages paid railway employés are dropping below those paid in other industries.

2. Taxes and the cost of living have increased.

3. The productivity of railroad men has increased 43 per cent in the last four years and there has been no increase in compensation. [A railway spokesman asserted that increased productivity, if any has occurred, has been the result of improved mechanical efficiency rather than employés' efforts.]

Thomas C. Cashen (left), A. F. Whitney (center), and Alvanley Johnston are three of the leaders who signed unions' request for pay boost.

4. Railway employés suffered tremendously in the depression of the early '30s and now seek a share in profits which the roads enjoy thru the general increase in business.

Officers Sign Statement.

The statement was signed by Alvanley Johnston, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; D. B. Robertson, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen; J. A. Phillips, Order of Railway Conductors; A. F. Whitney, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and T. C. Cashen, Switchmen's Union of North America.

C. E. Johnston, chairman of the Western Association of Railway Executives, asserted:

"These men already enjoy the highest level of wages in American railroad history. The rail carriers are straining every effort to coöperate in the national defense program and are making vast capital expenditures to increase their rolling stock and plant facilities to handle with dispatch the demands resulting from park production. Almost one-third of the nation's railroads are still in bankruptcy or reorganization. They are staggering under the burden of deficits accumulated thruout the depression period.

"The increased productivity of railroad labor, if indeed it has increased, is not due to increased effort on behalf of employés but is directly due to improved mechanical efficiency of the railroad plant.

Fears 600 Million Rise.

"A 30 per cent increase to this already favored class [the brotherhoods] would undoubtedly require a corresponding increase in the wages of all our employés. Last year the railway pay roll was approximately 2 billion dollars. On this basis the demand if applied generally would mean an increase of 600 million dollars. This is more than three times as much as the net income for all the railroads in 1940.

The estimate that the increase would raise pay rolls 168 million dollars a year was made by Robertson, who based it on the 1939 pay roll of 560 millions for the unions involved.

The brotherhoods ask a flat 30 per cent increase in basic pay rates and miscellaneous rates. They seek a minimum increase of $1.80 a day for all their members paid less than $6. This group includes switch tenders, whose $5.06 daily is the lowest wage in rail union ranks, and hostler's helpers, who are paid an average of $5.51 daily.

Brotherhood officials said other demands discussed would be held in

Int. Harvester Output to Be 20% Military

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Fowler McCormick, newly elected president of the International Harvester company, said yesterday that production on military contracts will comprise about 20 per cent of the company's estimated 1941 output.

The company has a total of 60 million dollars of military orders, direct from the government or from other companies working on government contracts. The direct orders represent about two-thirds of the total.

Aside from tractors and trucks the company is turning out intermediate artillery, shell forging and machinings, shell boosters and gun carriages.

Gets Special Gun Order.

The most recent order received by the company was a $12,120,000 contract for a new type of artillery to be built at the company's St. Paul, Minn., plant. It is understood that the new gun is for aircraft use.

McCormick said that the company has done very little subcontracting on its military contracts so far but that plans are being made to farm out more business of this type wherever possible.

The company, he said, is beginning to feel the pinch of shortages in various materials. So far, he said, production has not been materially affected but the company, is now developing substitutes for those materials in which shortages appear likely.

Seek Substitute Alloys.

Experiments with special steels are being carried on by the company to replace alloy steels which are not now obtainable in the same quantities as before.

The shortage of farm labor and the outlook for better farm prices is stimulating demand for the company's regular line of farm machinery, McCormick said.

It is almost impossible to get farm labor in some parts of the country and farmers are buying machinery to speed up farm work, he said.

McCormick said he could not forecast the trend of prices of farm machinery.

Seeks to Keep Cost Down.

"It goes without saying," he said, "that we are doing everything possible to coöperate with the government in seeking to prevent an inflationary spiral in prices. At the same time labor costs are rising and it is not possible to say with certainty that the efforts to hold prices down will be successful."

McCormick said that the company's properties in the war zone as a practical matter are no longer in its control. Almost the entire American personnel of these plants has been withdrawn. It has been virtually impossible for the parent company to get any reports on the operations of the plants in Germany and the occupied countries, he said.

Fifth of Total in Europe.

About one-fifth of the foreign investments of the company are in Europe. These total $12,139,000 and are distributed as follows: France [including North Africa], $5,389,000; Germany, $3,236,000; Sweden, $1,178,000; Great Britain, $991,000; other countries, $994,000. The figures include investment in both manufacturing and sales facilities.

The company has set up a general reserve of 30 million dollars against its investments abroad. This reserve is not allocated to individual countries but covers the entire foreign investments of the company which aggregate about 60 million dollars. The largest foreign investment is in Canada.

Schram Formally Elected Stock Exchange President

New York, May 19 (AP).—Emil Schram, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, was formally elected president of the New York Stock exchange today. He was chosen and accepted tentatively May 6. The board of governors at the organizational meeting elected John A. Coleman vice chairman of the board to succeed Robert P. Boylan. Nine new governors took office.

HARD COAL PAY INCREASE HALTS TIEUP OF MINES

Workers to Get $20 or Paid Vacation.

New York, May 19 (AP).—Terms of a new two year contract granting wage increases to nearly 100,000 anthracite miners were agreed upon today by Pennsylvania hard coal operators and the United Mine Workers of America [CIO], ending a brief work stoppage in the industry.

The agreement provided for basic wage increases of 7½ per cent on all contract and day rates until Oct. 1, when the increase will be advanced to 10 per cent. It provided, too, for a token payment of $20, or an equivalent vacation, to each employé of more than a year.

Turns to Bituminous Talks.

John L. Lewis, UMWA president, instructed local unions thruout the anthracite area to have the men return to work tomorrow morning. He then turned his attention to the bituminous industry where a deadlock exists between the union and southern operators.

Unless an agreement is reached by Friday the case will be taken to the defense mediation board.

The board began hearings in Washington today on a 10 day wage strike by CIO lumber workers against 60 logging and saw mill operators in the Seattle, Wash., area.

Strike on Navy Job.

An employés' spokesman said the walkout was called after the company refused to make a written guarantee that any pay raise reached in negotiations with seven AFL unions would be retroactive to April 15.

Some Ship Workers Return.

San Francisco, Cal., May 19 (AP).—Union officials today indicated that workers affiliated with the Bay Cities Metal Trades council would return to work tomorrow at two of the eleven bay area shipyards, where work on a half billion dollars' worth of defense contracts has been stopped by an AFL-CIO machinists' strike. It was hinted that the other nine plants would be reopened Wednesday.

Conduct Work Stoppage.

Dunkirk, N. Y., May 19 (AP).—About 100 CIO welders conducted a work stoppage today at the American Locomotive company's Alco division to back demands for a 10 cent hourly wage boost and a union shop. The firm, employing 1,100, produces 155 mm. gun carriages for the army and is working on a $5,000,000 order.

Apollo Steel Plant Struck.

Apollo, Pa., May 19 (AP).—A CIO wage strike today halted operations of the Apollo Steel company which has orders for about $100,000 worth of armament program materials.

SHELL, PHILLIPS RAISE 3 STATES' CRUDE OIL PRICES

Tulsa, Okla., May 19 (AP).—Two oil companies today raised crude oil prices 10 cents a barrel in Oklahoma, Kansas, and Illinois and 9 cents in the Texas panhandle. It is the second increase for Oklahoma, Kansas, and Texas since April 1, and the fourth for Illinois.

The Shell Oil company and the Phillips Petroleum company raised prices 10 cents in Oklahoma and Kansas to a top of $1.25 a barrel. Shell raised its Illinois price to a flat $1.37 for the 3,000 barrels it buys daily in the Benton district. The new Phillips top in the Texas panhandle is $1.11.

Mickey Mouse Studio Center of Union Battle

Hollywood, Cal., May 19 [Special].—Developments in labor disputes at two Hollywood studios today gave the public a glance at the serious side of the business of making funny animated cartoons.

The studio of Walt Disney, the Chicagoan who came to Hollywood in 1923 with $40 and some ideas that produced millions of dollars from "Mickey Mouse," "Donald Duck" and other animated characters, was involved in a National Labor Relations board hearing which was started in connection with a union jurisdictional dispute.

The other development was a tieup of the studio of Leon Schlesinger, producer of "Looney Tunes" and "Merrie Melodies" cartoons.

Closes Studio Before Strike.

Faced with a union strike threat over wages, Schlesinger closed his studio before the hour set by the Screen Cartoonists guild [AFL] for the strike. The dispute involves 200 employés whose pay ranges from $25 to $200 a week. The union demands increases.

The Cartoonists guild also is involved in the Disney dispute. The guild demands jurisdiction over about 900 Disney employés, and charges that the Federation of Screen Cartoonists, with which some of the employés were affiliated until the federation was disbanded, was dominated by the company. The hearing which began today concerned the domination charge. Officers of the disbanded federation have formed a new union, the American Society of Screen Cartoonists.

Agrees to Sign Decree.

Gunther Lessing, vice president of Walt Disney Productions, agreed to sign a consent decree pledging the company not to interfere with unionization of employés. He said the studio would sign a contract with whichever union represented a majority of the employés.

Disney's studio recently issued a statement quoting Herbert Sorrell, head of the AFL union, as saying: "We are either going to make a deal, or we are going to turn this plant into a hospital, or we are going to have labor trouble. This could be turned into a nice hospital or dust bowl."

WICKARD TELLS FARMERS GRAIN WILL HIT PARITY

Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard intimated to a farmer group in Hutchinson, Kan., yesterday that President Roosevelt will sign the 85% of parity crop loan bill. The above chart, prepared by the Commodity Research Bureau, Inc., New York City, shows how the actual prices of the farm products on April 15 compared with parity levels.

Parity is a price that would give farm products relatively the same purchasing power as they command in the years 1909 to 1914. On the chart wheat at 76 cents a bushel is approximately 70 per cent of parity—the parity price for wheat being $1.14 a bushel.

If President Roosevelt signs the loan bill passed by congress last week, farmers will be given loans on their crops up to 85 per cent of parity. Thus the wheat loan would be about 96.2 cents a bushel.

"President Roosevelt wants the basic crops to reach parity this year," Wickard said. "He told me also that he thinks wheat farmers, taking loans and payments into account, will get parity on this year's crops.

"If wheat farmers do get parity—and I am sure they will—farmers should not overlook the work of farm organization leaders who have labored steadfastly for equality for agriculture, and, a lot of credit must go to congress."

Wickard reminded the farmers that the wheat loan was contingent on their voting in favor of marketing quotas in the May 31 referendum. He also hinted that the 1942 wheat acreage allotment would be trimmed about 7,000,000 acres.

ROOSEVELT HINT ON PRICES SENDS WHEAT SOARING

Futures Up 4 Cents Over Early Lows.

Wheat prices soared 4 cents a bushel above their early low point yesterday to a new seasonal high on the strength of a statement by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard to the effect that President Roosevelt desired to see parity prices for 1941 wheat and corn crops. Traders construed this to indicate that the pending farm loan bill would be signed shortly.

Closing trades in wheat futures were at gains of 2 to 2⅛ cents. Corn moved up ½ to ⅝ cent and rye ⅞ to 1⅛ cents. July and October soybeans sold at new high prices for about four years, with the close 1⅝ to 2⅜ cents higher.

Passed by Congress.

Both branches of congress recently voted crop loans of 85 per cent of parity, against 75 per cent last year, but reports had persisted that President Roosevelt would veto the measure. Parity loans are intended to give farmers the equivalent of their pre-world war purchasing power.

[See parity price study in adjoining column.]

All deliveries of lard reached their highest levels, with advances of 12½ to 15 cents per 100 pounds. Strength in hogs and buying by packers were believed responsible for the upturn.

News other than that in regard to the proposed government loans attracted little attention from wheat traders. Receipts of 1,993,000 bushels of cash wheat at primary markets were said to represent large arrivals of government owned grain moving from the interior to eastern and other ports for storage. The receipts were about three times larger than a year ago.

Indicate Quota Approval.

A canvass of grain dealers at regional meetings in Kansas by C. M. Calvin of James E. Bennett & Co. indicated that the national referendum on a marketing quota for the 1941 wheat crop would be carried by a large majority. It was estimated that 89,000 farmers are eligible to vote in that state. Of the 13 million acres of wheat seeded in Kansas last fall it was estimated that 76 per cent represents acreage of producers coöperating with the Agricultural Adjustment administration.

Demand Alien Gold Limit to Curb Inflation

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 19.—Republican members of the house coinage, weights, and measures committee tonight demanded that purchases of foreign gold be limited to a maximum of $35 an ounce and that the 2 billion dollar exchange stabilization fund be reduced to 200 millions. They cited the temptation for the Roosevelt administration to use inflationary methods to finance the armament program.

The views of minority members on the committee were expressed in a report opposing renewal of the dollar devaluation and exchange stabilization fund authority as presently constituted. Earlier the New Deal majority on the committee advanced a recommendation for continuance of the powers for two years.

Insist on Amendments.

Republicans said they will support the bill for continuation of the monetary powers only if amendments are adopted limiting the price paid for foreign gold—thereby barring further devaluation of the dollar—and cutting the size of the stabilization fund.

Of the 2 billions in the fund 1 billion 800 million dollars are lying idle in the treasury and should be devoted to helping defray the expense of the rearmament program, the minority report contended.

"We oppose the continuation of the President's power to reduce the gold content of the dollar for two reasons," said the Republican report. "Our first reason is that past results do not justify extending this grant of power. Originally it was asserted that the reduction of the gold content of the dollar would raise the general price level. In this it failed. Subsequently, the administration argued that the power should be continued so it could deal effectively with competitive currency depreciation abroad. Again it failed to produce the anticipated results.

Cite Inflationary Threat.

"Our second reason for opposing this legislation in its present form is that devaluation would constitute a distinctly inflationary threat—a threat which would jeopardize the entire national defense effort."

There can be but two possible reasons why the administration wants the power continued, the report continued: [1] to finance armaments by again "clipping the coin," which would be a dangerous inflationary step under present conditions, and [2] power for the sake of having power, a step toward dictatorship.

Gold should also be returned to circulation, the minority said, because this would assure confidence of the public in the integrity and stability of government bonds.

TREASURY ASKS DEEPER BITE IN EXCESS PROFITS

Claim Arms Income Escapes Taxes.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 19.—Asserting that huge profits earned by many corporations on arms program orders were not touched by the present tax law, the treasury proposed to congress today a radical revision of corporate excess profits levies.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury John L. Sullivan told the hous ways and means committee that an additional 1 billion 96 million dollars should be taken in taxes from business in order to help pay the tremendous cost of the rearmament and aid Britain program. The administration made a similar proposal last year, but congress considered the suggestions too drastic.

Boosts Range to 600 Percent.

Treasury proposals already advanced call for tax boosts on individual incomes, especially in the lower and middle brackets, ranging to 600 per cent.

In support of his argument for increased corporation taxes, Sullivan informed the committee that one unidentified company which has 250 million dollars in arms contracts and which earned 20 times as much in 1940 as in 1939 would pay no excess profits tax this year under present law.

Another company, he declared, made 3,000 per cent more profits in 1940 than in 1939 as a result of 70 millions in arms contracts but it will pay no excess profits tax this year.

These companies presumably paid sharply increased normal income taxes, but Sullivan said they escaped paying the excess profits tax by claiming exemption to the equivalent of 8 per cent of their invested capi

7 IMMEDIATE BENEFITS that come from a
Revocable Living Trust

THE NORTHERN TRUST COMPANY CHICAGO

IT IS TRUE—when you establish a Revocable Living Trust at this institution, you start at once to count your benefits.

For the trust itself begins to function immediately. Experienced trust officers take over the supervision of this portion of your holdings . . . relieve you of the burdensome, often perplexing, details of security management. Yet ultimate control may continue in your hands. You may reserve the right to pass upon recommendations for the purchase or sale of securities. And you are always free to amend or discontinue the trust at any time.

Such a trust may be used to provide income for yourself, for charity, or for relatives and friends. You have an opportunity to witness the effects of your trust . . . to test the wisdom of its provisions and alter them if necessary.

These are just some of the seven immediate advantages to the owner of a Revocable Living Trust. There are also important deferred advantages for the heirs. For example, the assets of a living trust are not subject to probate. That reduces expense; eliminates undesirable publicity. It makes it possible for both income and management to continue without interruption.

You may find it very worth while to discuss with your attorney the advantages of a Revocable Living Trust as part of your estate plans. In this connection, our new booklet, "The Living Trust," will prove helpful. A copy will be forwarded to you upon request. There is no obligation.

STOCKS BARELY MOVE IN YEAR'S LIGHTEST SALES

More Finish Unchanged than Up or Down.

New York, May 19 (AP).—The stock market today ambled thru one of the slowest sessions in the last 25 years without developing any real strength or weakness.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at 39.6. Of the 530 individual issues traded 170 closed up, 179 down, and 181 unchanged. Transfers of 223,010 shares were the smallest for a full session since last Aug. 26, and there have been few under this figure since 1916. The total compared with 287,060 Friday.

Tax Program Chilling.

Lack of inspiration in the war news and a slight chill resulting from the treasury's excess profits tax program presented to congress tended to restrain speculation, brokers said.

While prospects for peace in coal mining controversies brightened, the demand of the railway brotherhoods for a 30 per cent wage increase was an offset.

Sale of a stock exchange seat for $28,000, up $1,000 from two transfers May 10, was a moderately cheerful item, in view of the fact memberships previously had dropped to $20,000, lowest since 1898.

MILLER & HART AT PEAKS.

Stocks followed an irregular course on the Chicago exchange yesterday in transfer of only 14,000 shares. Three issues of Miller & Hart set 1941 highs—voting trust certificates for the common at 1, up ⅛; prior preferred at 6⅛, up ¼, and convertible preference at 15¼, up ¼.

Only one dually listed stock, Swift, recorded a change from the New York close during the trading from 2 to 2:30 o'clock, finishing at 21¼, off ⅛.

AMERICAN ZINC READY TO BOOST OUTPUT OF METAL

Completes Three Additions; Profits Are Larger.

American Zinc, Lead, and Smelting company has a ready market for all of the products it can turn out with operations at full capacity, Howard I. Young, president, told stockholders yesterday in a report of earnings for the quarter and 12 months ended March 31.

He announced that new slab zinc producing facilities at Fairmont City, Ill., and Dumas, Tex., and the electrolytic plant at Monsanto, Ill., have been completed and will be in full production by the end of June.

American Zinc's March quarter profit rose to $223,452, equal to 20 cents a share on the common stock, from $79,600 in the 1940 quarter, when there were no earnings applicable to the common.

12 Months Profit Higher.

Net income for the 12 months ended with March was $740,157, equal to 59 cents a share, compared with $354,463, or 2 cents a share, in the preceding 12 months.

"At present the demand for all products, including both manufactured and mine by-products, is equal to or in excess of the company's production, and as long as capacity operations can be continued, earnings will continue at a satisfactory rate," Young said. "Costs, however, are being gradually increased because of advances in costs of labor, fuel, and supplies."

Texas Gulf Producing company, large independent producer of crude oil which operates on the gulf coast, reported a slump in March quarter profit this year to $89,387, equal to 10 cents a share, from $182,765, or 20 cents a share, in the corresponding 1940 period.

Abitibi Earnings Rise.

At Toronto, Ont., G. T. Clarkson, receiver and general manager of Abitibi Power and Paper Co., Ltd., reported that the company had larger earnings available for bond interest and taxes in 1940 than in 1939 as a result of a large increase in sales.

Funds available for interest and taxes for the year ended Dec. 31 were $3,687,505, after depreciation, compared with $1,660,001 in 1939.

Abitibi's sales of newsprint, pulp, and power climbed to $23,499,230 last year, from $16,146,048 in 1939, Clarkson said. Working capital increased to $18,828,372, from $10,772,657.

FREIGHT INCOME OF SO. PACIFIC BEST SINCE 1930

Revenues from operations of the Southern Pacific company's transportation system in 1940 rose to $231,932,279, the highest mark since 1930, largely as a result of increased freight revenues, the railroad's annual report showed yesterday. Passenger revenues declined.

The total of railway operating revenues represented an increase of 6.6 per cent, or $14,359,390, over the $217,572,889 reported for 1939. The 1930 figure was $258,758,129.

Last year's freight revenues, also the largest since 1930, were $189,213,149, against $172,715,307 in 1939.

Herbert J. Lorber.

Three hundred Chicagoans will attend a dinner at the Blackstone hotel tomorrow in honor of Herbert J. Lorber. The event is sponsored by a group of business men to honor Lorber for his many civic and charitable activities. Percy Wilson, vice president of Marshall Field & Co., will be toastmaster.

Lorber is vice president and general manager of the Rollins Burdick Hunter company, insurance brokers. For the last three years he has directed the Chicago campaign in raising funds for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. He has promoted various polo and horse shows for charities.

Among the dinner guests will be Basil O'Connor, chairman of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, and Gene Tunney, former heavyweight champion and now a lieutenant commander in the navy.

Sponsors of the event, in addition to Wilson, include James R. Leavell, president of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, Gen. Thomas S. BIG 5 RAILWAY UNIONS REQUEST 30% PAY RAISE Roads Unable to Meet It, Say Operators.

abeyance. These include payment of expenses while workers are away from home and vacations with pay.

The nonoperating unions, with 750,000 members, have asked vacations with pay, a demand now under federal mediation. The nonoperating groups are holding meetings in Washington, D. C.

Railroad officials said that passenger engineers on class 1 roads, which include 99.1 per cent of the country's mileage, are paid an average of $350 a month and that conductors get $285, firemen $235, and brakemen $200. They said freight engineers are paid $325 a month and yard switchmen $218.

The last general wage increase was granted in 1937 and amounted to approximately 5 per cent. It had been expected that the Big Five would ask an increase of 5 to 15 per cent, and yesterday's demand surprised operators.

After formal notice of the demand has been given to individual roads the carriers have 30 days in which to confer with union officials. If no agreement is reached at that time a national conference will follow. Federal mediation is the next step if a national conference fails. In any event, a final decision will not be reached for several months.

MOVES TO SPEED UP INSULL CASES MADE BY JUDGE

Federal Judge John P. Barnes made several moves yesterday in his efforts to wind up speedily bankruptcy proceedings of Insull Utilities Investments, Inc., and Corporation Securities company, parts of the old Insull utilities empire. He discharged his former rule directing all interested parties to show cause why final decrees should not be entered.

He ruled also that no further reference would be made to masters in chancery, indicating that he would hear all future aspects of the case himself. He said that this was intended to "cut down overhead" in the already too expensive case.

Judge Barnes took under advisement schedules of fees for Insull Investments, submitted by Special Referee Garfield Charles. The fees totaled $65,000, a slash of $48,000 from those requested by attorneys.

EGG PRICES RISE TO 1929 PEAK IN FUTURES TRADE

Egg futures advanced to pre-depression prices yesterday on the Chicago Mercantile exchange. The continued strength was attributed to gains ranging to ½ cent a dozen in cash quotations, which reached new 1941 highs, and reports that April egg production was slightly under a year ago.

The June storage pack delivery rose 0.25 cent a dozen to close at 24.75 cents bid, the day's top and highest since 1929. May futures were an equal fraction higher at 25.25 cents.

Butter for November delivery rallied from an early decline prompted by cash market easiness to close with a gain of 0.30 cent a pound at 36.50 cents. November cheese advanced 0.25 cent to reëstablish its record level of 21.75 cents a pound.

BAILEY TO QUIT CHICAGO GRAIN RECEIVING TRADE

E. W. Bailey & Co., which has operated a Chicago cash grain receiving business since 1879, will discontinue operations on the Chicago Board of Trade on May 31, it was announced yesterday.

It was understood that the company decided to quit its Chicago business because of the sharp reduction in volume resulting from the government's handling of large amounts of cash grain.

George C. Bailey, president, will continue to operate another company under the same name at Montpelier, Vt.

NICKEL SUPPLIES SHORT; PRIORITY RULES TIGHTENED

Nearly All Is Reserved for Use in Arms.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 19.—Facing a 45 million pound shortage in nickel this year, the Office of Production Management today announced a new rationing plan limiting virtually all consumption of nickel to armament uses. The plan, announced by Edward R. Stettinius Jr., OPM director of priorities, provides mandatory control over all supplies of nickel and tightens drastically the previously announced control, imposed in March.

Because of the shortage in nickel supplies, all armament orders will be given a priority rating and no schedule of preference ratings for civilian use is provided.

Civilian Supply "if Possible."

The announcement said, however, that some allocations will be made for nonarmament uses on a restricted basis, if possible, in order to prevent unemployment in manufacturing plants.

Armament needs can be cared for in full, said the statement, but civilian uses must be drastically curtailed.

During May approximately 15½ million pounds of nickel will be available, the largest ever provided for industrial uses in the United States in one month, Stettinius said. However, military and civilian demands would total 21 million pounds, thus indicating an overall shortage of 5½ million pounds for the month. This estimate was then extended to cover an expected shortage of more than 45 million pounds for the year.

Nearly All from Canada.

The United States imports almost all of its nickel from Canada, which controls world production.

Stettinius also announced the creation of a priorities field service, headed by L. E. Scriven of Evanston, Ill., and E. C. Laird Jr. of New York.

Details of how it will operate were not given out, but it was understood that field representatives would be assigned to principal manufacturing centers to advise armament contract holders.

Scriven and Laird will each have the title of assistant deputy director of priorities. Three other assistant deputy directors also were named. They were C. H. Matthiessen Jr. of Pasadena, Cal.; Joseph L. Overlock of Chicago, and E. A. Locke Jr. of New York.

Meanwhile, OPM officials expressed the opinion that a nation-wide campaign to collect scrap aluminum would be of little value because most of the scrap product is unsuitable for armament needs.

COCOA FUTURES.

Recently I read that cocoa prices went up because of the fear of shipping shortages. Where does cocoa come from? Is there a central market for cocoa in this country? Do you have a table showing the high and low cash prices of the staple?—K. W.

Answer: The west coast of Africa is the largest producer of cocoa, accounting for about 65 per cent of total world output. Brazil, second leading producing area, contributes about 15 per cent of the total.

Cocoa is traded for cash and for future delivery on the New York Cocoa Exchange, Inc. Trading hours are from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. each week day, except on Saturday, when the exchange closes at noon.

The unit used for futures contracts on the exchange consists of 30,000 pounds of cocoa beans in original shipping bags deliverable from warehouses in the port of New York licensed by the exchange.

There are various types and grades of cocoa beans which are acceptable for delivery on futures contracts. These include accra cocoa from the British Gold Coast, Bahia from Brazil, San Thome from the Portuguese island of that name, and Ivory coast fermented beans from the Ivory coast of west Africa.

Better grades may be delivered at ¼ cent premium over the contract price and poorer grades at ⅛ cent discount. The contracts are quoted in cents and hundredths of a cent a pound. The minimum variation in cocoa futures prices is one-hundredth of a cent, which is designated as one point, and amounts to $3 on each contract of 30,000 pounds.

A comparison of the yearly price range of the accra type of cocoa in the cash market since 1922 may be obtained by sending a stamped, addressed envelope to the Investors' Guide.

FIDELITY DEPOSITS.

I understand that the Fidelity Assurance association maintained reserve deposits of securities with officials of various states in which it operated. Do you know what the value of these deposits is?—M. R.

Answer: The insolvency and receivership complaint brought by Edgar B. Sims, state auditor of West Virginia, against Fidelity Assurance association last April 10 listed the following estimate of the value of securities deposited by the association with various state authorities as a reserve against outstanding savings contracts:

Alabama	$ 28,000
Delaware	302,000
Illinois	3,994,000
Indiana	166,000
Iowa	42,000
Kansas	85,000
Kentucky	85,000
Maryland	516,250
Missouri	970,750
Ohio	467,500
Pennsylvania	211,000
Tennessee	192,150
Virginia	25,000
West Virginia	13,028,021
Wisconsin	2,302,000
Total	$22,414,671

The valuation was made as of Oct. 31, 1940.

MAY CURB AUTO SPEEDS TO SAVE RUBBER SUPPLY

Less Tire Wear Held Aid to Arming.

A new plan for conserving rubber by limiting automobile speeds to 40 miles an hour may be set afoot soon as a phase of the armament program. Possibility of such a movement was reported yesterday by the Associated Press in a dispatch from New York relating to the various rôles of the automobile industry in the arms program.

The aim of any such drive would be to contribute supplies of crude rubber to the reserve pile which the government is building up, along with its program of encouraging production of synthetic rubber from materials not dependent on imports.

Reduction Forecast.

"Don't be surprised if a reduction in automobile highway speeds shortly is put forward realistically as a means of conserving rubber," the dispatch said.

"Here's what the experts say: The rate of wear of a tire rises quickly with the increase in speed. Strict enforcement of a 40 mile an hour speed limit would make tires last 15 to 30 per cent longer, rubber men think. Such a reduction in tire wear would sharply reduce our national rubber use, freeing a large part of our normal annual consumption of 1,100,000 tons for armament needs."

Depend on Far East.

Most of the rubber used in America comes from the Far Eeast. About 3 to 4 per cent of the nation's requirements are met by aritficial rubber substitutes made from such materials as petroleum and coal.

A reduction in the amount of rubber used for automobiles would be considered significant because nearly three-fourths of the rubber used in this country goes into tires.

Tire companies are pushing efforts to increase the life of tires thru use of chemicals that will toughen the rubber and make it less subject to deterioration from age.

AVERAGE PRICE OF HOGS REACHES THREE YEAR PEAK

The market for hogs continued to rise yesterday under the influence of government support. Prices advanced 10 to 20 cents on various grades and the average moved up 15 cents to $9.15, the highest since March, 1938.

Reports that federal pork buyers would ask for bids from packers twice weekly more than offset the effect of larger receipts and a break of 50 cents a hundred pounds in top light pork loins. Packers paid up to $9.25 for top loads of medium weight hogs. Steers and yearlings sold at barely steady prices, with some heavy cattle off as much as 25 cents.

URGES MERGER TO 'SAVE' 2 BIG TELEGRAPH UNITS

Face Extinction in Next Slump, Fly Warns.

James L. Fly.

Washington, D. C., May 19 (AP).—James L. Fly, chairman of the Federal Communications commission, today urged that congress authorize a merger of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies to prevent the possibility of the industry's "total disappearance as an independent entity."

"It is perfectly conceivable," Fly testified before a senate committee investigating the telegraph industry, "that the next prolonged or pronounced recession in general business will drive both companies to the wall—and I don't mean just financial bankruptcy. I mean discontinuance of service.

Existence "in Jeopardy."

"Competition and other factors have driven the two major telegraph carriers to the point where their very existence is in jeopardy. National defense, the interests of employés, and other considerations make it undesirable that we should permit either to be forced to the wall.

"The most promising alternative is a merger, with suitable legislative safeguards."

Chairman Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] said in a statement opening the committee's inquiry that "the most that congress could be expected to do would be to pass permissible merger legislation, with proper safeguards for all concerned, and providing, of course, that merger is found wise and necessary."

Asks Guidance by Facts.

"The committee," he added, "so far as I know, has no preconceived ideas regarding a merger; we must be guided by the facts as presented by competent witnesses."

Fly said that Western Union receives about 66 per cent of all domestic telegraph revenues and Postal Telegraph something less than 15 per cent, the balance going to the Bell Telephone system, a number of small companies, and the railroads.

INDUSTRIAL RISE BOOSTS ILLINOIS JOBS, PAY ROLLS

Illinois employment and pay rolls registered gains of 2.6 and 4.9 per cent, respectively, from March to April, the state department of labor reported yesterday. The report covered 6,333 companies which employed 689,490 wage earners.

The advances were attributed to "increased industrial activity and nonseasonal factors." Average changes from March to April for the preceding 18 years were declines of 0.7 per cent in employment and 0.5 per cent in pay rolls.

"A factor which contributed somewhat to the increase in pay rolls was the large number of wage rate increases during the month," the department said.

Wage boosts were effected by 131 of the 6,333 reporting companies, and applied to 51,715 workers. The average rate of increase was placed at 8.3 per cent.

RAIL LIENS SLIP; BOND TURNOVER ONLY 4 MILLION

New York, May 19 (AP).—Prices moved unevenly in a quiet bond market today. Recently favored secondary rail loans tended to slip, altho losses were minor.

Gains, were registered, were also generally confined to fractions and many quotations were unchanged.

Indicative of the cautious pace of trading in the face of forthcoming treasury financing, a demand for higher rail wages and restraint caused by the European war, was the turnover of $4,128,800 face value, smallest since Sept. 16, last. Volume last Friday was $5,447,600.

In the foreign dollar division Berlin City 5s lost 12 points at 14, in the first transaction since early January. German 5½s, French 7s, Denmark 6s, and Rome 6½s all added a point or more, while Tokio City 5s dropped a point at 19.

Nash-Kelvinator will make the airplane parts in Lansing, Mich., where the government's Defense Plant corporation has acquired a unit of the Reo Motor Car company for the purpose. About $8,433,860 will be spent for the purchase, rehabilitation, and equipping the property, Jesse Jones, federal loan administrator, said.

Will Employ Over 2,000.

When the plant is in full operation it will employ between 2,000 and 3,000 workers, most of them skilled mechanics, Nash-Kelvinator said. The propeller assemblies will be manufactured under license from United Aircraft corporation.

The war department announced also a lease agreement with the Defense Plant corporation for federal financing of $208,850 of expansion of the Perfect Circle company, Hagerstown, Ind., for production of aircraft piston rings.

WARNS FACTORY 'ON ORDER' CAN MAKE NO ARMS

Dr. Francis C. Frary, research director of the Aluminum Company of America, warned yesterday against wishful thinking based an paper planning of this country's armament needs. He spoke at the opening of the three-day semiannual meeting of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, of which he is president, in the Edgewater Beach hotel.

"In these days of astronomical figures and continent-wide planning," he said, "we are prone to forget that a decision to build a plant and to produce something is only the starting point.

"After management has set the policy, it is the job of the engineer to build and operate the plant authorized, and build it well. No plants 'on order' can help us until they become plants 'in being' and go into regular efficient production."

EXCHANGE NAMES GROUP TO CONFER ON SPECULATION

A committee of five members was named yesterday by the Chicago Mercantile exchange to coöperate with the Commodity Exchange administration in its program to prevent "excessive" speculation in farm products.

The committee, which will have its first meeting today, will study the problems presented by the administration, solicit opinions from exchange members, and suggest remedies.

Garrett B. Shawhan, president of the exchange, heads the committee. Other members are Clinton H. Haskell, president of Beatrice Creamery company; R. E. Pearsall, vice president of Armour & Co.; Maurice Mandeville, associate broker with Fahnestock & Co., and L. D. Schreiber, head of L. D. Schreiber & Co., Inc.

TREASURY ASKS DEEPER BITE IN EXCESS PROFITS

Contends Arms Income Escapes Taxes.

tal [the amount paid into a business by stockholders and surplus earnings not distributed as dividends]. This exemption is allowed under present law as an alternative method of computing the excess profits tax. The method is most advantageous for companies with exceptionally large invested capital. Sullivan did not provide the specific figures in these cases to support his contention.

"It appears," Sullivan said, "that only 5 out of 12 large integrated steel companies will be subject to excess profits tax on the income of 1940 altho steel companies have in general received huge amounts of defense orders."

Levies Would Be Heavy.

The treasury plan in brief provides that all corporate earnings in excess of 10 per cent of invested capital should be heavily taxed. Companies which had not been earning as much as 10 per cent on invested capital would start paying the taxes when they reached their normal earnings. Sullivan left to the committee the fixing of rates.

Sullivan also suggested that congress might consider, as an alternative, repealing the excess profits tax altogether and increasing the corporation income tax instead.

The belief had been expressed in some quarters that the treasury might submit an entirely new tax plan as a substitute for its previous proposals. But Sullivan confined his testimony to the excess profits subject. He was questioned by Representative A. W. Robertson [D., Va.], concerning the possibility of further lowering the personal exemptions for individual income tax payers.

Opposes Lower Exemptions.

"With the danger of increased costs of living facing us today," Sullivan said "I would not recommend broadening the tax base by lowering exemptions. I would be very apprehensive about reducing the exemption for a single man below $800. When you get down below $17 a week, you are getting on pretty thin ice."

If the exemption for married persons is to be decreased, he said, the present $400 credit for dependents ought to be increased. Sullivan indorsed suggestions made by other administration officials that heavy taxes, such as a 20 per cent excise tax on new automobiles, be levied.

"The excise tax on automobiles, radios, clocks, watches, phonographs, and records, refrigerators, and such items could be made heavier," he remarked. "Some reductions might be made in the excises on nonluxury goods."

Asked About Conflict.

Representative Thomas A. Jenkins [R., O.] asked Sullivan about reports that Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. and President Roosevelt were at odds on the tax plan.

"I can only answer that my statement today was read, not only by the secretary of the treasury but by the President," replied Sullivan.

Asked if the administration still was in favor of slashing 1 billion dollars from federal expenditures not connected with the arms program, Sullivan declared that "every one agrees that economy is desirable." He declined, however, to suggest specific economies and also insisted that a 1 billion decrease in nonarmaments spending should not be accompanied by a corresponding reduction in the expected yield of the tax bill.

French Government Will Meet June 1 Bond Maturity

New York, May 19 [Special].—The French government 7½ per cent bonds, which will become due on June 1, and the June 1 coupons on both the 7½s and the government's 7 per cent bonds, will be payable on and after that date at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., Inc., Herve Alphand, financial attaché to the French embassy, will announce formally tomorrow.

COTTON

Cotton futures prices soared at one time yesterday but reacted rapidly when buying ceased. Closing trades on the active contracts were unchanged to .05 cent a pound lower. Hedging and profit taking were also behind the recession.
